Aid Needed in School Crisis: Kennedy

Moslems Buoyed,
Others Are Bitter

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—The European Secret Army answered President Charles de Gaulle's promise of an Algerian peace agreement with the daring seizure today of an Oran newspaper. Secret Army commandos blanketed the city with a pirate edition asserting the French settlers will win their battle to block Algerian independence.

Most Daring Coup

The publication and distribution of thousands of copies of the contraband newspaper in Algeria's second city was probably the most daring propaganda coup yet pulled by ex-Gen. Raoul Salan's rightist underground.

It followed only by hours De Gaulle's address to France in which he scorned the Secret Army as "subversive and criminal" and vowed that nothing would stand in the way of his plans for Algerian peace and independence.

De Gaulle's speech buoyed Algeria's Moslems with new hope and optimism. Although he did not say agreement had been reached with the rebel provisional government, many saw an end of the 7½-year-old rebellion near at hand. "This time peace is really around the corner," said one.

The speech aroused new bitterness and hatred among the North African territory's Europeans. The Secret Army wasted no time in demonstrating anew its defiance of De Gaulle.

30 Take Over Paper

A commando group of about 30 armed men, their faces masked with scarves, invaded the newspaper Echo d'Oran at 2 a.m. as the printers were about to start the night's run.

Herdling aside workers in the composing room, the raiders in 30 minutes recast the newspaper's back page devoted to North African news.

The new page showed: A banner headline saying "Special Edition of the OAS" (Organisation de l'Armée Secrétaire). A two-column block of white letters on a black background de-

Hold Two Youths
For Downtown
Market Burglary

Cooperation of state police with Kingston Police Department Monday afternoon led to the arrest of two teenage youths charged with burglary on December 16 at Manos Market, 25 Broadway.

Both were released in the custody of their attorneys during arraignment in City Court this morning before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman.

Robert Boughton, 16, alias Robert Holmes, of Hasbrouck Avenue, waived preliminary examination and was held for grand jury action on a charge of third degree burglary. He was released in custody of his attorney, Aaron E. Klein.

Thomas Pendell, 16, of East Strand, was released in the custody of his attorney, Richard W. Griggs, pending preliminary hearing on February 13.

Kingston police said Pendell also faces other charges. He is being charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of a 1958 red convertible on January 16 from the Kingston Buick garage parking lot on Main Street. The car was abandoned at Connelly.

Pendell was also arraigned last July 26, before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert E. Stedje on a first degree grand larceny charge in connection with the theft of a 1959 high-priced car which was wrecked at Ruby at 2:30 a. m. that day.

Pendell and William Joseph Bradford, 16, of DeWitt Lake, who police said operated the stolen vehicle were held for grand jury action at that time. Bradford was injured in the

The School of Nursing level will be so constructed so that it quickly could be converted into a disaster center, housing approximately 50 patients.

Wagner Bars
GOP Deals
For Judges

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he will not stand for any deals between Democrats and Republicans for bipartisan nominations of candidates for the State Supreme Court.

Continues Feud

The Democratic mayor, continuing the daily feud between him and Republican Gov. Rockefeller, declared Monday:

"If the governor thinks he can promise one of his Republican county bosses a judgeship in New York City whom we Democrats would be pledged to support for election when he comes up, in exchange for his appointment of some Democrat, then he is mistaken."

The mayor, who spoke in his role as city and state leader of his party, commented on legislative bills sponsored by Rockefeller to create 38 new judicial posts in the state. Some of the judges would be appointed by Rockefeller for interim terms until an election was held.

Wagner spoke specifically of the 17 new Supreme Court bench posts that the bills would create in New York City.

Applies to Others

The mayor's stand was reported unofficially to apply also to proposed new county judgeships, and to be statewide. The bills supported by Rockefeller, intended to help relieve court congestion in New York City and in some sections Upstate, were introduced in the legislature without any publicly known understanding that there would be bipartisan nominations for some of those chosen.

Craft Will Attend

Reserves Army Called
In Crisis to Get Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army reported today it is releasing an undisclosed number of reservists it acknowledged shouldn't have been called to active duty during the Berlin crisis mobilization.

It said it "has instructed the field to advise those individuals erroneously called up they are eligible for release from the service."

Involved are men who, due to misinterpretation of policy, were kept in the ready Reserve when they should have been transferred to the inactive Reserve.

The Army said it does not have any figures on the number affected. Generally, they are among the more than 14,000 Army reservists ordered to duty specifically to fill up ranks of understrength Reserve and National Guard units mustered into active service last fall.

During the mobilization, some protested they were called up unjustly. The Army in effect admitted this today, saying "during the build-up certain personnel were creasing the total capacity of the hospital to 222 beds.

Thurmond Would
Cite All Obeying
Censorship 'Gag'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., demanded today that Pentagon employees be cited for contempt of Congress if they obey Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's orders and refuse to tell a Senate investigation of "muzzling" who censored what speeches.

Will Stand Pat

A series of Senate speeches by Thurmond charging that censorship had "muzzled" military men's anti-Communist speeches touched off the inquiry.

McNamara declared Monday he would stand pat on his refusal to tell the subcommittee which of the censors altered language of any particular speech text. He also has forbidden his subordinates to give such testimony.

McNamara said he hoped no contempt citations would result, but that if there are any they "should be directed to me and not the reviewers."

Vouches for Loyalty

Addressing a news conference, he said it would undermine morale if he let subordinates answer to Congress for following his directives. He vouched for the censors as loyal Americans, saying that many of them are war veterans with distinguished combat records.

Newsmen Can't Go
On Viet Missions

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military authorities in Saigon today banned Western correspondents from accompanying future U. S. helicopter combat missions against the Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam.

U. S. Army and Air Force spokesmen said the ban was ordered by Adm. Arthur D. Felt, commander in chief Pacific, based in Pearl Harbor.

Accuracy Praised

Cause for the ban, they said, was an Associated Press eyewitness report on a U.S. helicopter mission which flew Vietnamese troops into action Sunday.

Several U.S. military men here said they considered the report accurate and responsible. "This is the kind of reporting we need from here," one said. They declined use of their names.

The eyewitness account was by Roy Essoyan, a longtime AP correspondent. It gave a graphic account of the operation. It said the U.S. helicopter lift went off with clockwork precision. An American military adviser on the mission said the operation failed due to faulty communications and shortage of U.S. helicopters and Vietnamese troops. One U.S. helicopter was shot down.

Leftists Halt RFK's Tokyo
Speech; Big Welcome Earlier

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of students at Tokyo's Waseda University gave Robert F. Kennedy a roaring, cheering welcome today, but shouting, jeering leftists broke up a speech by the U.S. attorney general. It was the first postality Kennedy has met on his visit to Japan.

It was estimated the hecklers totaled fewer than 100 U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer said they were "a small group of hard-core Communists and I don't believe they were from Waseda."

Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, stood calmly on the university stage despite the pandemonium. They left the auditorium building through a rear door. Mrs. Kennedy was hit in the stomach by a pelting cheerleader trying to drown out the hecklers, but she quickly recovered her composure.

"I think the vast majority of the students were friendly," the President's brother said later. "I'm just sorry we didn't get more of a chance to exchange ideas. I'd like to go back."

Thousands of students swarmed about Kennedy's car as he drove into the university grounds to cheers of "Kennedy! Kennedy!" and cries of "Shake my hand."

Goldberg Urges
Support of Plan
On 16-22 Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg says the Kennedy administration is determined to do something for the one million Americans aged 16-22 who are both jobless and out of school.

He said a "modest and moderate" beginning would be the administration's youth employment opportunities act now before Congress, and he urged support of the measure.

Goldberg spoke Monday at a national conference on public work programs for urban young people, sponsored by the National Social Welfare Association and the National Committee on Employment of Youth.

Looks Like
Cuba, Soviet
For UN Show

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—Cuba and the Soviet bloc appear determined to magnify Cuban aggression charges against the United States into a major propaganda show in the United Nations designed to embarrass President Kennedy's administration.

The Communist strategy became clear when debate opened Monday in the General Assembly's 104-nation main Political Committee. Cuba, the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia delivered marathon speeches denouncing the U.S. government as the mastermind behind last April's abortive invasion of Cuba and accusing Washington of plotting new aggression against Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

Sees Torpedo Move

U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson retorted that Cuba was trying to torpedo Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program and open the way for Red subversion throughout Latin America.

Observers predicted the debate would develop into a week-long display of Communist oratory.

The Soviet bloc set the stage for a full-dress airing of Cuba's charges.

Czechoslovakia and Romania put in a resolution calling on the United States to cease interference in the internal affairs of Cuba.

Would Tag It Trial

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin attempted to maneuver the United States into the position of being on trial before the assembly.

Zorin posed a series of questions directly to Stevenson dealing mainly with the United States' alleged part in the April invasion.

Zorin also demanded to know if Cuban exiles are being financed and trained on U.S. soil and at

$5.7 Billion Is

In 5-Year Plan

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy told Congress today a crisis in American schooling makes it imperative that a five-year $5.7 billion aid to education program be enacted this year. He asked no help for church and private elementary and high schools.

It was this exclusion of parochial schools that stalled the aid for classroom construction and teachers' salaries program last year in a congressional row over help for church schools.

Points to Constitution

But Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, said again today in a special message that his program offers "the maximum scope permitted by our Constitution." He contends federal outlays for church schools would violate the constitutional concept of separation of church and state.

Kennedy's program of federal loans, grants and scholarships at every level of learning would cost $1.5 billion in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Stresses Investment

He said the outlay would be "the most profitable investment society can make."

As if to refute reports that his administration would be willing to forego funds for aiding public school construction and higher teachers' pay, the President put that contested measure at the top of his list.

Next came aid for college construction and scholarships, which are given a better chance of becoming law. Third was an array of "special" education and training programs with emphasis on more support for science and engineering, medical and dental training, and a broad attack on adult illiteracy.

Doubtful on Fresh Start

Whether today's urgent plea would give the stalled teacher salary and construction bill a fresh start was doubtful.

Few gave the bill much chance, even if revived. But Kennedy spoke out strongly for vigorous government help. In the past year "our crucial needs have intensified and our deficiencies have grown more critical," he said.

"It is imperative that such a proposal carrying out these objectives be enacted this session."

14 Million More by 1970

The country must provide facilities for 14 million more elementary, secondary and college students by 1970, the message said, or an increase of 30 per cent. College enrollments alone will nearly double.

The message gave few figures.

INTOXICATION TEST

That old bugaboo of how far you can go in getting a man to testify against himself is brought to mind again by an announcement in Iowa. The safety commissioner in that state says that an instrument called the "intoximeter" is soon to be used to a limited extent by highway patrolmen.

The gadget is designed to measure the degree of intoxication by testing alcohol content of the breath. To operate it, the subject must breathe into a rubber balloon. It is said that experiments with this device in Iowa, intended to gather data for the state legislature, will be on a "purely voluntary" basis. Even so, one is disturbingly reminded of the question of self-incrimination.

The question is not as absurd as it might seem at first blush. It is an important question partly because it leads to others. Were society to accept the notion that the person can be prodded and tested and analyzed in search of evidence against an individual, then liberty would be seriously endangered. Some observers feel that intoxication tests are a step in this direction.

So long as the "intoximeter" test is voluntary, without prejudice as a consequence of refusal, it may be a useful adjunct to law enforcement. Involuntary subjection to this or other tests is, however, something that should be approached with the greatest care.

Probers of excessive stockpiling of strategic materials have a hunch that excessive profits are being stockpiled, too.

WINTERIZE YOUR DRIVING

In an endeavor to cut down the mounting number of motor vehicle accidents, the National Safety Council offers the following suggestions for safe winter driving:

Because starting and stopping are the most difficult parts of driving in snow and ice, accelerate and brake gently and slowly to reduce the dangers of wheel spinning and skidding.

Tire chains, cinders or coarse gravel under the drive wheels provide more traction if you can't keep wheels from spinning. Lowering tire pressure does not help.

Don't lock brakes. Pump the brake pedal up and down gently instead of using a steady, heavy pressure.

Remember that it takes from three to 12 times as much distance to stop on snow or ice than it does on dry pavement. Watch traffic ahead and allow that extra space for stopping.

Don't change speed or direction abruptly or you might skid. If you do skid, turn in the direction the rear wheels are skidding to correct it.

Slow down well in advance of a curve, then maintain your speed steadily through it.

If stuck in snow or icy ruts, rock the car. Spinning wheels make an icy hollow which makes your car stick worse.

A wet ice cube is more slippery than a dry one. In the same way, road ice at 30 degrees can be twice as slippery as at 10 degrees.

SPEED BOOSTS PERIL

Every so often someone declares—and usually with an air of having hit upon the mother lode of truth—that speed cannot really be blamed for highway accidents. Slowpoke driving is just as much to blame, it is said. There's nothing wrong with driving a few miles over the speed limit, so this view has it, as long as the driver knows what he is doing and is in alert command.

This kind of thinking has one major flaw in it. To say that speed is not the cause of accidents is a bit like saying that alcoholic beverages are not the cause of drunkenness.

The essential point to bear in mind is that speed exaggerates—pushes to dangerous and perhaps fatal extremes—the results of carelessness, laxity, aggressive driving, or whatever else it is that causes particular accidents. The higher the speed, the faster things happen—and the greater the danger of a crash.

THE CUBAN MESS

Taking it for granted that a way must be found to drive Communism out of Cuba in order to safeguard the United States, what do we do?

The simplest but least practical and popular solution is immediate war on Cuba. There is no question but that we would win that war, but there may be many consequences which would be extremely damaging and the end of which cannot be foreseen. For instance, a bush war with Cuba may end in a major war with Soviet Russia. Are we ready? Are they ready?

The effort to solve the problem at the O.A.S. has been mildly successful. In fact, it may be judged to be unsuccessful. For with Brazil and Mexico abstaining we know that nations that we help spit in our face, to state the case as vulgarly but as accurately as possible. We have then to decide whether Brazil and Mexico are not more significant opponents of our country than Cuba and that we need a program of political antagonism to those countries.

Castro has made it clear by sufficient assertions that he has had the co-operation of Soviet Russia and that his enterprise is a part of the Soviet Universal State. Russia must be regarded as our focal enemy or current events have no meaning. Cuba, as an acknowledged agent of Russian policy, is an enemy of the United States. Even if the Russians are willing to end their foray in Vietnam, what is their position in Cuba, Brazil and Mexico? In a word, is Soviet Russia moving its enterprise against the United States from Southeast Asia to Latin America and are we in a better position to encounter the Russians in Latin America than in Southeast Asia?

This is not an easy question to answer. Every day I meet men who have answers to all questions. They know precisely how to handle this situation, but I am sure that neither the President nor the Secretary of State are equally sure. They are circumscribed by the course of events and by knowledge of the facts and the more they look at 50 years of disturbance, the more they must wonder why there is no willing end to disturbance.

For instance, while Khrushchev's star is waning, it is clear that several new groups are emerging. In Asia, Red China has become a principal factor of world disturbance with a special interest in Latin America. True, China's interest in Latin America is not new. Since about 1840 or earlier, Chinese were imported in Latin American countries from Kwangtung Province and they settled in large numbers over the years. They fared well in many of the Latin American countries and contributed large sums to Dr. Sun Yat-sen for the 1912 and subsequent revolutions in China. In fact, Dr. Sun's Minister of Foreign Affairs, Eugene Chen, came from Trinidad and was culturally British.

When Communist evangelism developed, Red China mapped out Latin America as an area for itself and sent to Latin American countries, Russian and German trained Chinese to serve as engineers and various kinds of experts. They have played a great role in the development of Communist movements in Mexico and Cuba. If when you look at pictures of Central Americans and some appear to be Chinese, the fact is that they probably are Chinese who have become assimilated with the indigenous population.

Red China then is playing an exceptional role in Latin America and that role is specifically anti-American. It has been assumed by Americans that they can export what they call Democracy to such countries as Red China or Latin America. This has proved to be a fallacy. Whereas Marxism, as a revolutionary force, can be exported and is accepted in alien countries, Democracy has proved to be unassimilable. It rather develops as a concept of free choice over a long period of time and slowly overcomes ancient mores and family customs. There are many explanations for this, the principal one being that Democracy makes no provision for individual freedom which even in its mildest expressions is disorderly, whereas ancient societies wish to preserve discipline an order.

The result has been that the Red Chinese who have come into Latin America, as Communist evangelists, have made extraordinary progress. They do not offer freedom or liberty but order and discipline and the power of a successful revolution.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Reader Mourns Lack of

Personal Touch in Medicine

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here's a letter I felt I must share with my readers:

"Your article on the value of house calls took me back to my childhood with a feeling of nostalgia. My father was a pioneer doctor who came to Pittsburg, Kan. in 1885 when Pittsburg was just a wide place in the road.

"At that time, the doctor was a family friend and counselor. He practiced psychiatry long before we knew the meaning of the word. He was good at curing many patients with kindly advice and sugar pills.

"Now, progress and circumstances have changed this and the practice of medicine reminds me of a large factory where the patient is on an assembly line. He has not much more than a speaking acquaintance with the doctor, who many times does not recognize him or remember what his trouble is until he looks over the case history that's handed to him by a nurse.

"I do not know how to change this but one thing I do know and that is that the patient and his family suffer."

To which I can only add a fervent "Amen." Q—I have just had a colostomy and I am having a hard time accepting same and adjusting myself to my condition. I remember reading of a club made up of persons who have had this operation but, at the time, I never thought I'd be eligible for membership. I think it would help me if I could join with "brothers and sisters in distress." Can you tell me where I can get information?

A—Write the Colostomy Society of New York, 225 West 145 St., N.Y.C.

Q—Would you discuss bursitis of the shoulder? Four men who work with me and I have been having a battle of it, and we don't seem to get any relief. In moving our shoulders, it feels like we had broken eggs inside.

I have not been able to raise my arm all the way up since July. My doctor took X-rays but he said there were no calcium deposits. Isn't there something we can do to get comfortable?

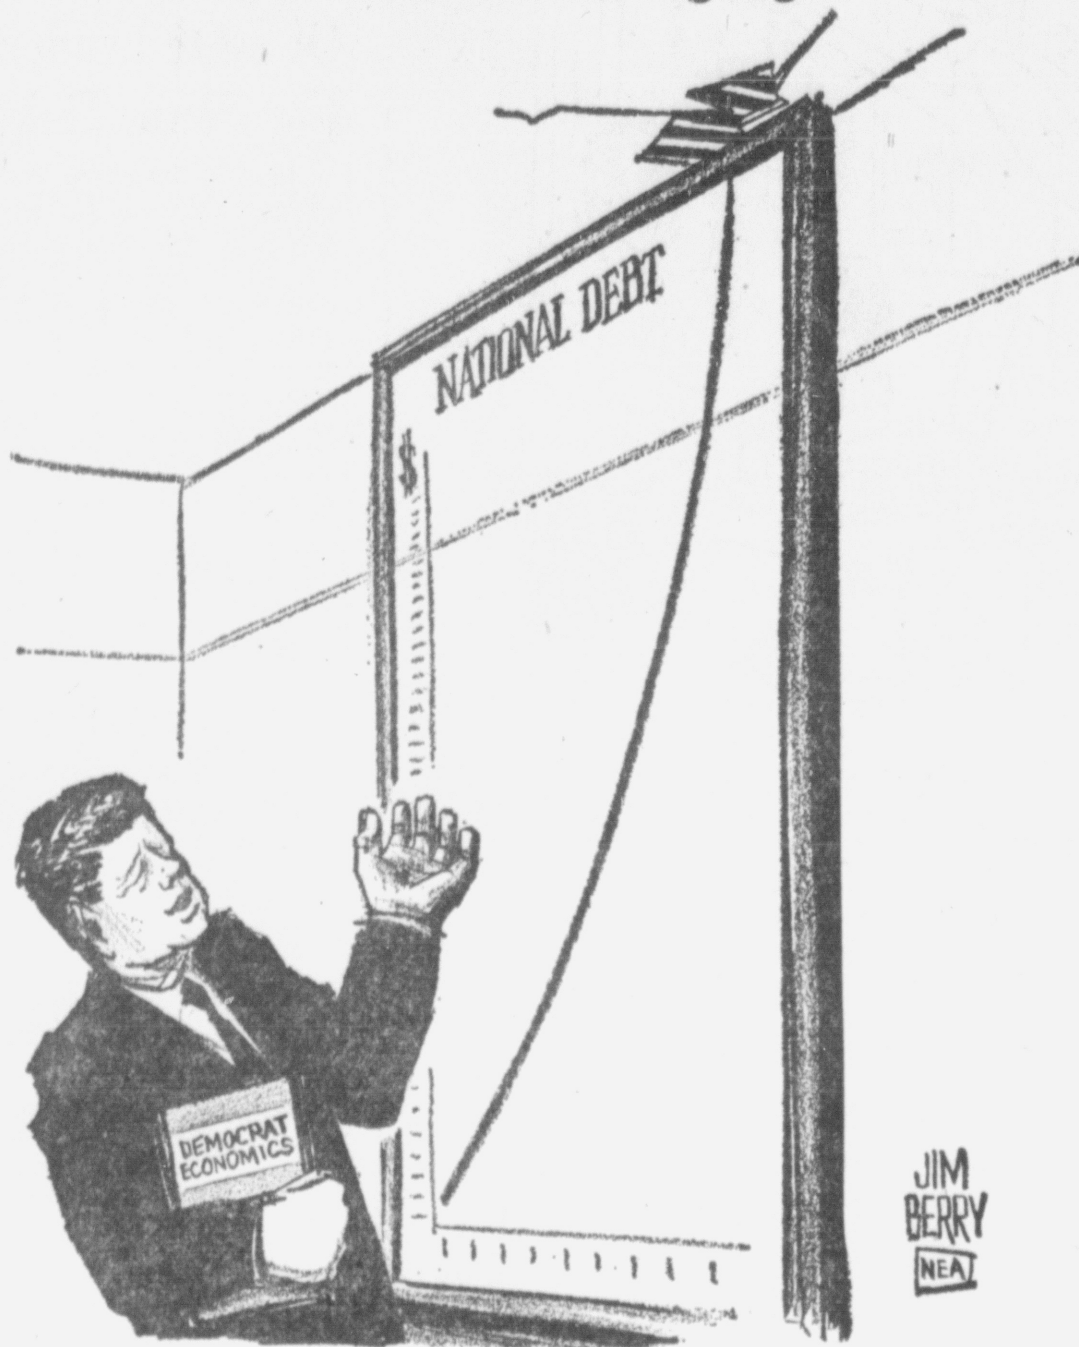

A—For immediate relief, you might ask your doctor's permission to have the joints washed out, for, from your description, there must be calcium present. And it may be possible to prevent recurrences by injecting a preparation that acts like ACTH.

But of greater importance is prevention. Since five of you in the shop have the same complaint, inflammation of this particular bursa must be the result of something you do on the job. Why don't you analyze what strains you put on your shoulders when you do whatever it is you do? Then try to figure out how you can do the same thing in a different way.

For example, many orchestral conductors suffered this complaint until someone suggested that they dispense with batons and lead their musicians by merely waving arms. Apparently, gripping the baton in a co-ways way produced shoulder strain.

Maybe you and your co-workers will come to some such conclusion and find an equally simple way to eliminate your trouble.

"Let's Raise the Ceiling Again"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Opposition to President Kennedy's reorganization plan to create a new Cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs and Housing comes from four principal sources:

FIRST OF ALL, there is a racial question because the President has announced that he will appoint the present Housing and Home Finance administrator, Robert C. Weaver, as secretary of the new department and the first Negro cabinet member. This is not, however, the first time Congress has refused to create a new Cabinet-level department because the lawmakers did not approve the man designated to head it.

President Truman wanted to create a Department of Welfare and name Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing secretary. There were enough congressmen who didn't like the idea to block it.

But the creation of a Department of Health, Education and Welfare was one of the first Eisenhower administration reforms which the Republican Congress whooped through.

TODAY THE REPUBLICANS IN CONGRESS are proposing that the Kennedy Department of Urban Affairs plan be "studied" to death for reasons which are principally political.

Another source of opposition comes from the smaller towns and rural areas that look on big cities as their enemies.

Many congressmen represent districts which are predominantly rural and small town.

They fear the incessant demands of cities for redistributing to equalize shifts in population.

This would give urban areas larger representation not only in Congress but also in state legislatures now controlled by rural counties.

THE PRESIDENT'S REORGANIZATION PLAN throws a sop to the smaller cities by promising that there will be planning funds for them, too, in the new department. But that may not be enough bait to lure them into supporting his plan.

Rural areas have been getting their development funds from Departments of Agriculture, Interior and Commerce. They have a concern that a new Department of Urban Affairs might be a competitor for the federal handout dollar.

This slips over into a related source of opposition to closer federal-city ties. It comes from the cities' rights advocates. They fear that a Department of Urban Affairs would by-pass the state capitals. City governments would look directly to Washington for help and state governments would waste away.

ALL THIS OPPOSITION comes together in conservative elements who fear that the federal government is already too big and becoming too directly involved in the affairs of too many people. Bigger government is by them opposed on these grounds.

It is conceded, however, that none of this opposition nor all of it is going to stop cities from growing.

A century ago, 80 per cent of America's people lived on farms. Today 75 per cent of the people live in metropolitan areas.

This ratio is going to increase. The bigger cities become, the more congested and slum-ridden they will get unless somebody does something drastic.

Most cities having fallen down on the job of taking care of their own growth, renewal, transportation, housing, crime, juvenile delinquency and related evils, the federal government moves in to help. This is the rationalization for the administration program.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY claims his plan is creating no new federal activities. He says it is merely consolidation of half a dozen existing housing agencies for better government. They were last reorganized by President Truman in 1947.

The combined budgets for existing agencies is $3.3 billion for next year. Housing Administrator Weaver says the new Department of Urban Affairs will cost only $51.

400 more to increase the salaries of seven senior officers—a secretary, undersecretary, four assistant secretaries and a general counsel.

That may be true for the first year. But wait till the new department is in business.

First off it will want a new building to house all its scattered agencies in one place. Then it will find new things to do, and the sky's the limit.

Chester A. Arthur was president of the United States when the Pendleton Act, establishing Federal Civil Service, became law in 1882.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

If you think all lamplighters were old, because of the song, that is a mistake. Irvin L. Gardiner of 14 O'Neil Street, who was born in Mink Hollow, town of Woodstock, March 16th, 1876, will be 86 this coming March. Mr. Gardiner was 11 years old when he lit the lights on North Manor Avenue, Albany Avenue, Flatbush and Foxhall Avenues, Gage Street, Emerick and Stephan. There were 16 lights in all, and it took him an hour to do them all.

He lit them every night except some three nights a week, on full moon nights. He received $10 a month for his work. His employer was George Bush, who had the contract. The upper end of the town already had gas lights. The lights were on poles 11 feet high, so young Gardiner carried a stepladder and five gallons of kerosene, he said, and not quite a full can. Each lamp took about a pint of liquid which kept it lit to midnight. In the summer, he filled them in the morning and lit them in the afternoon. In the winter, he filled them and lit them at dusk, after school.

He said he remembered the big blizzard of 1888, and that the snow was so deep that his father and his older brother took over the work during the three days of the blizzard, because he was too little to wade through it. Mr. Gardiner is the son of Christian E. and Irene Gridley Gardiner. His folks moved to Kingston when he was a year old and always lived in the second and third ward. He said that three generations of Gardiners went to No. 5 School. In 1880, when he was about 13, he worked at Terry's Brickyard, continuing to work there some 39 years. Later he was in the foundry business, as furnace man.

No doubt many men who worked in the Ulster County highway department know Mr. Gardiner for he worked there some 20 years. He was a charter member of the old Moore Hose Co., that was organized Aug. 9, 1898. He now is a member of the A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Co.

One can see that he did heavy work for some 71 years, and is now retired. He started when he was 11 and that certainly did him no harm. I am sure the streets which he tended to were properly lighted accordingly to the times, and he went on being not only a dependable boy in his youth but also a man.

It often makes me wonder why those do-gooders feel that idleness is better for a youth than

Common Sense Cure Seen In Controversy on 'Gags'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's nothing very wrong about the "muzzling" of military officers that a little common sense wouldn't cure.

The cause of much of the controversy is that old, old defect in governmental bureaucracy which can be described only as incompetence and inefficiency.

Everybody believes in free speech except some minor officials who, weighed down by their imaginary responsibilities, fancy themselves as on a par with the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Defense and censor speeches accordingly. This has happened under preceding administrations, too.

The current row got momentum when Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, in his zeal and enthusiasm for the cause of anti-communism and anti-socialism, made the mistake of telling his troops in West Germany where they could get data to help them vote on one side of certain domestic issues in America without telling them at the same time the name of the library and the exact shelves therein where they could find the other side of these controversies on economic and political issues.

But it is questionable whether a soldier with Gen. Walker's war record should have been removed from his command when a simple reprimand and warning not to continue some of his practices would have sufficed.

Now, as a result, a Senate subcommittee of the armed services committee is studying the whole question of "censorship" of speeches. Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi, one of the ablest men in the upper house, who happens to be endowed with a judicial temperament which was strengthened by several years on the bench, is trying to disentangle the "censorship" mix-up by holding hearings. This is a good way to expose mistakes in government, but the inquiry has run up against a stone wall as Secretary of Defense McNamara refuses to make public the names of those who "censored" specific speeches. This is but another way of shielding incompetence.

Still Refuses Names

The secretary told a news conference Monday that he would be "loath" to invoke the doctrine of "executive privilege" to back up his refusal to name names. He seems to think this is like pleading the Fifth Amendment. If the analogy were accurate, he would be justified in his course, but nearly every President since George Washington's day has ruled, when he felt so disposed, that it was not "compatible with the public interest" to reveal information from the executive branch of the government which the chief executive might wish to withhold. It's a proper man-ver and carries no implication of guilt. At least President Madison didn't think so, and the Supreme Court upheld him in the famous case known as "Marbury Vs. Madison."

There is, however, a way out of the whole difficulty in handling the speeches of military men and other officials. It's a rather simple device but, perhaps because it is so obvious, it has been overlooked. The Defense Department's experts in diplomacy and in over-all policy should, of course, read beforehand any of the speeches which its military officers wish to deliver, and be permitted to make "suggestions."

The speechmakers themselves shouldn't be obliged to accept these, though there are many occasions when such changes could and would readily be made. But if a speaker should choose not to delete the portions deemed questionable from a policy standpoint, the Department of Defense could simply require that the speech carry a footnote to the public which would say:

"This address has not been cleared by the Department of Defense and does not necessarily reflect the views of the department. It must be regarded solely as the personal expression of the speaker."

If a military man however, makes a speech criticizing his superiors for the way they operate the Defense Department or casts any aspersions upon them, this becomes a matter for internal discipline, as in any department. There is no rule which says a member of the team who disagrees with the way the team is being run has to carry his case to the public. He can always manage to have himself summoned to a hearing before a Congressional committee, with the understanding that his testimony will be taken to executive session and kept confidential. In this way, he performs a duty to his country—he tells his story to the Congress, which has the obligation to keep posted on the way the laws are enforced. If there's anything wrong, the Congress can then move to correct the mistakes by legislation to cause the removal of incompetent or misguided officials in any department of the government.

There are times when some strong words should be used in public speeches to direct the attention of the public to what's going on beneath the surface. Sometimes the departments themselves like to have certain things aired. If they wish to disclaim responsibility for such statements and yet permit them to be delivered, the cause of free speech is sustained, efficiency of governmental operations is safeguarded, and the urge which sometimes seizes public officials to crusade for the betterment of man is readily satisfied. being gainfully employed. It certainly did not harm Mr. Gardiner. I am sure he did not catch more colds, than the young ones of today. No doubt he not only enjoyed lighting the street lights but looks back at it now, as a pleasant and interesting experience.

One can see that his father looked out for him, for came the Blizzard of 1888 and he took over his young son's job for a couple of days. I cannot understand why children cannot work at what they are able, when young.

Homework which used to be given out by factories was also taken away. What harm can come to little girls who sew or embroider. I did it and liked it and received pay for it. Modern youth has as much energy as we had, and do not know what to do with it. No one nowadays will hire them because of various restrictions. I think it is sad. It gives a child a certain amount of pride to work and get paid for it. Employers usually teach the value of time, money and accurate labor which is necessary as one grows up, what is wrong with the employment of children in proper employment according to their ability.

February Trial Term Opens, Mino Has 85 Cases, Tucker 4

Faced with a criminal calendar of 85 cases, County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday afternoon opened the February trial term of county court. Civil cases numbering 136 will not be taken until next week when at 10 a. m. on Tuesday the day calendar will be called.

In addition to the 85 cases on Judge Mino's calendar, four cases were before Surrogate Francis X. Tucker, acting as county judge to hear criminal matters in which Judge Mino is disqualified by reason of his having been associated with those cases while serving as district attorney.

Three persons indicted on a charge of riot at the Ship Gally Bar and Grill, Accord, were permitted to plead guilty to third degree assault, a misdemeanor, and will be sentenced on February 19 at 2 p. m. They are Louis, Joseph and Anthony Piscopo. It is alleged they assaulted Mrs. Mildred Williams, Allgerville, with a ball bat during a New Year's incident. Catherine Louise Salfi, also charged with the same act, had her case adjourned to the same date at which time the prosecution will move for the dismissal of the indictment. District Attorney David W. Corwin stated. Charles Saccoman appeared for the defendants.

An indictment charging Robert Drucker with receiving stolen property; burglary, third degree, and first degree grand larceny, was moved over the term on motion of Joseph Qualtere who appeared of counsel for Charles Saccoman.

Are Youthful Offenders

Three cases, Gary Louis Albert, Barry Cooper and Jon Stuart Posner, indicted for third degree burglary, second degree grand larceny and petit larceny, will be disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute on motion of Joseph Qualtere, appearing counsel for Charles Saccoman.

A grand larceny, burglary and receiving stolen goods indictment against Michael B. Berkowitz, will also be disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Joseph Qualtere appeared for defendant.

A case involving a charge of impairing morals of a minor brought against Richard V. and Helen R. Cantwell of Kingston, was moved over to the April term on motion of Attorney Frederick Stang.

On a plea of guilty to petit larceny, Lawrence Cody Jr., charged originally with second degree forgery, had imposition of sentence postponed until February 13 at 2 p. m. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant.

Corrado to Take Plea

District Attorney David W. Corwin announced that the second degree assault charge pending against John F. Corrado, 14 Grant Street, Poughkeepsie, would be disposed of by plea on February 13 at 2 p. m. Ernest Betros of Poughkeepsie appears for Corrado. This case grows out of an affair at the Cherry Hill Tavern, Highland, in which Corrado and Frank M. O'Shea, Poughkeepsie police officer, were involved. Patrolman O'Shea was injured in the affair. An indictment charging assault against O'Shea was recently dismissed on motion of N. LeVan Haver, who appeared for O'Shea. O'Shea has been dismissed from the Poughkeepsie department.

The case of John Wayne Ploss, Rt. 2, Wallkill, charged with third degree burglary and petit larceny, was put over the term. Ploss is in custody in another state. Francis Martocci appeared and moved the case over.

The manslaughter charge against Peggy Jean Battles, 22, Marlborough, was also moved over the term on motion of Charles Saccoman. It is alleged her nine-week old son died from malnutrition last October.

George P. VanDyke, 31, Ann Street, was arraigned on a charge of third degree assault arising out of a fire in a parked car on Mill Street on October 21, 1961. The car was owned by Harry Shults of 22 Broadway. VanDyke was instructed to get an attorney and appear at 2 p. m. on February 13. He said he was employed, but had six children and did not feel able to hire an attorney. He will try, Bail was continued.

Sentence Suspended

Ernest Philip Paulin, 61, entered a plea of guilty to possessing a pistol without a New York license. He resides in New Jersey and had come with his son to Ulster County to hunt deer with bow and arrow. On request of his son, he said he had brought the pistol along but had no intention of using it. Howard St. John appeared for Paulin, a house painter, and because of his good record and the fact he had a license in New Jersey for the weapon, Judge Mino suspended imposition of sentence.

Among those arraigned under sealed indictments were: Bernard Ferraro, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. Hubert Richter appeared, reading of the indictment was waived.

Joseph Rizzo, violation of Section 970 and 973, Frank Campochiaro appeared for defendant.

Abraham Reid, 16, Ellenville, robbery, second degree and assault, second degree, Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant.

A charge of fraudulently obtaining property brought against Franklin D. Staples was dismissed on motion of District Attorney Corwin. Defendant is deceased.

Forgery, second degree, indictment which contained 34 counts was read against Jack

Meyer, Ellenville. He entered a guilty plea to one count and was given a suspended 1½ to 3 year term at hard labor in Clinton Prison. The suspension was based upon a request of Benjamin Slutsky, Ellenville, proprietor of Fallsview Hotel, Ellenville, who said he had received $2,000 restitution, and suggested leniency. John Bonomi appeared for Meyer and asked for dismissal of the remaining counts and for exoneration of bail.

Arraigned under sealed bills were: Troy Porter, illegal possession of a loaded revolver after prior conviction. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant. The case was adjourned to February 7 at 2 p. m. Elisa K. Ringwood was arraigned on a grand larceny, first degree, charge. Charles Saccoman appeared for him. Adjourned to February 19 at 2 p. m.

Robert Baxter, grand larceny, second degree. Adjourned to February 6 at 2 p. m. Charles Gaffney for defendant.

Samuel G. Merryman, 18, Marlboro, burglary, third degree, and second degree larceny. Bernard Fenney Jr., assigned. Adjourned to February 13 at 2 p. m. Daniel A. Murphy, 24, Freeport, and Paul Botch Jr., 30, also known as Les Schmidt, Farmingdale, were arraigned on a charge of malicious mischief. It is alleged they used the walk-in the Ashokan Sports Shop for target practice. A plea of not guilty was entered. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendants.

The case was set down for February 19 at 2 p. m.

An assault, third degree, charge against Howard Lake, went over to the April term when Michael Nardone appeared specially for defendant and asked for dismissal of the indictment. He said the County Court had no jurisdiction. Lake, he said, was charged with an assault on two police officers who had awakened him as he slept in his car at Dietz Stadium. He said one of the charges had been heard in City Court and defendant found not guilty. A second charge against the other officer was pending in city court for trial and he said he had received no notice that the case had been transferred to the grand jury. Any person had a right to have notice so that he could appear before the grand jury. District Attorney Corwin said he was not acquainted with the facts as presented by Nardone and suggested a formal motion be made by counsel. For that purpose the matter was put over until the April term.

Roy Spence, Kingston, was arraigned under a sealed bill charging grand larceny, first degree, and third degree assault. A plea of not guilty was entered. Charles Saccoman appeared for Spence.

John Robert Hibbits, 18, East Orange, N. J., was arraigned on a charge of second degree, grand larceny. William Dwyer was assigned. Adjourned to February 13 at 2 p. m.

Willard Whipple, 18, Ellenville, and Edward McFarland, were arraigned on a charge of third degree burglary and petit larceny. They will appear later in court to plead.

Edward Skill, 22, Ellenville, arraigned on charge of third degree burglary and petit larceny. Sherwood E. Davis assigned. Adjourned to February 13 at 2 p. m.

Lawrence Frederick LaPlant, arraigned on charge of illegal possession of pistol. Joseph Qualtere appeared for defendant. Adjourned to February 19 at 2 p. m. Bail continued.

Edgar Jay VanVleet, Ellenville, arraigned on charge of illegal possession of pistol. Will get counsel. Adjourned to February 13 at 2 p. m.

Robert Joseph Feintun Jr., 17, West Hurley, arraigned on charge of first degree burglary, attempted rape first degree and second degree assault, alleged to have been committed January 16, when the Bruce Woodin home at Woodstock was entered. Adjourned to February 7 at 2 p. m. John J. Gotti appears for Feintun.

John Wesley Eckert, 22, Rosendale, also involved in the same entrance and indicted for first degree burglary. Adjourned to February 13, at 2 p. m. to get attorney.

Martin Joseph Polefko, was arraigned on a charge of third degree burglary and unlawful entry. Roy Featherstone appears for defendant. Case adjourned to February 13 at 2 p. m.

Ernest Adelbert Dunham Jr., Lexington, was arraigned on a charge of carnal abuse, assault, second degree, and placing a child in a situation likely to impair morals. George Beck was assigned. The act is alleged to have taken place January 31, 1962. Adjourned to February 13 at 2 p. m.

Henry Patrick Korte, 16, Brooklyn, was arraigned on a charge of third degree burglary and petit larceny. Joseph Avis will represent Korte. It is alleged Korte and a 14-year old hitchhiker to Ulster County and went to West Saugerties where they broke in cars and camps. They allegedly attempted to enter the Edward Kirks store by breaking a window and police were notified.

Before Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker the conspiracy and grand larceny, first degree, charges against William E. Smith and Deminick DeMico were put over. Smith is still hospitalized in Newburgh. Howard St. John appears for Smith and Charles Saccoman for DeMico.

A charge of reckless driving against Patrick A. Nezhich of Cementon arising out of an accident resulting in two deaths, was dismissed on motion of Joseph Hill. He told the court facts did not warrant the charge and there had been financial adjustments made. Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt consented to the dismissal.

Vincent B. King, Kingston, charged with second degree per-

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market milled irregularly, holding about even on balance early this afternoon, at the crest of a five-day advance. Trading was moderately active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 at 258.70 with industrials up .60, rails unchanged and utilities up .10. Steels were mixed. Motors were mostly lower.

The oils relapsed. Most of the tobacco stayed narrowly on the upside. Chemicals and nonferrous metals moved upward on balance. Texaco dropped more than a point following overnight news that it plans to merge with and liquidate TXL Oil. So large was the accumulation of buy orders for TXL that the New York Stock Exchange was not able to open trading in that stock during the morning.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Standard of Indiana lost fractions while Royal Dutch eased. Amersda spurted about 2 points. Johnson & Johnson added another 4 points.

ON GUARD IN ALGIERS—French soldiers and armored cars move into position in the heart of Algiers to counter a threat of an uprising by the underground secret army (OAS). Security forces throughout Algeria and France were alerted in advance of President DeGaulle's radio and TV address dealing with progress toward ending the seven-year rebellion in Algeria. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Algiers) claring, "The OAS will win." The text of a speech delivered by ex-Gen. Edmond Jouhaud in a pirate broadcast over Radio Oran Monday night. The Secret Army kept De Gaulle off Oran's TV screens by kidnapping seven radio technicians and broadcasting a speech by Jouhaud in which he declared: "We will fight to the death, victory is ours." In their haste, the raiders printed this speech upside down.

Army Defies

Salan's Picture Featured

A portrait of Jouhaud working at his desk in a secret headquarters somewhere in Algeria. A picture of Salan across the whole upper part of the page. Under the raiders' guns, about 20,000 copies of the new edition were run off. Beginning at 7 a.m., runners spread through the streets of Oran distributing copies eagerly snatched up by Europeans. Authorities immediately ordered a general police alert, but by then the Secret Army men were back in hiding. The Algerian rebel regime apparently after weighing De Gaulle's speech, issued a terse three-line communique at its headquarters in Tunis saying it had examined a reported speech and had "in consequence, taken decision."

Proposals Due Soon

There was no indication of what decision had been taken on whether it concerned a reported tentative Algerian settlement. High diplomatic sources have reported in recent days that the French and rebels in secret talks have reached agreement in principle on Algerian peace and independence. De Gaulle in his speech promised he soon would make public France's proposals to the rebel regime. He declared France is "traveling under full sail" toward achieving its objectives in Algeria—"to bring about peace within the shortest time, and to help Algeria to take its destiny in hand and to quickly create a provisional executive body." France, he vowed, is ready to recognize "without any restriction what will certainly come from a self-determination vote—that is a sovereign and independent Algerian state."

Angered Over Army

Anger flashed in his eyes when he turned to the outlawed Secret Army. He said "it is necessary to reduce and punish" the terrorists. "The nation unanimously despises and condemns these people, their plots and their terrorism," he said. Algeria's Europeans saw nothing encouraging in De Gaulle's speech. They were bitter over De Gaulle's reaffirmation of his plan to withdraw the bulk of French forces from Algeria to France in 1962 as a preliminary to giving France its own atomic striking force by the end of 1963.

"If the army is withdrawn, who will guarantee our future," said one European.

Aid Needed

Those were outlined in Kennedy's budget message. It showed that the requested three-year program of classroom construction and grants to increase teachers' salaries would cost $2.1 billion overall.

Stresses Scholarships

The program for aiding higher education would require $332 million annually over five years—for loans to build academic facilities and for scholarships of up to $1,000 a year for "talented and needy" students.

The House has approved only the construction portion. The President therefore aimed at the Senate his appeal that scholarships be restored to the bill.

Two administration bills embodying segments of Kennedy's program are new this year. They were scheduled to go to Congress after the message.

An appendage of the general public school aid bill would provide $747 million over five years to give elementary and high school teachers up to 2,500 scholarships a year for full-time study at colleges. It also would assist the establishment of institutes for teachers at colleges.

$120 Million First Year

The scholarships would go to teachers in private and parochial as well as public schools. The first year cost would be $120 million.

The second measure embodies Kennedy's announced "massive attack on adult illiteracy."

More than two million adult Americans can neither read nor write, Kennedy said, and the result "is often chronic unemployment, dependency or delinquency."

A proposed plan to help universities and state agencies tackle the problem would cost $50 million in five years, but only $3 million would be spent in the first year.

Other Recommendations

The other presidential recommendations included:

A 10-year program of matching grants for the building of 20 new medical schools and 20 new dental schools, in addition to the offering of four-year scholarships for one-fourth of the entering students in each medical and dental school in the country. In the first five years the cost would be $600 million; in fiscal 1965, $9 million.

Expansion of the program of the National Science Foundation to further scientific and engineering education in high schools. The foundation's appropriation would be $96 million larger than in this fiscal year.

Matching financial grants to the states, totaling $26 million in five years, for the building of nonprofit educational television stations.

A special training program to equip teachers to help children with physical or mental disabilities. A five-year, $47-million outlay was urged; and Creation of a Federal Advisory Council on the Arts, to study possible federal support for opera, symphony orchestras, ballet, and other performing arts.

crash at Ruby and suffered a possible concussion, Kingston state police reported.

Questioning by BCI investigators and Kingston detectives Monday morning following Bradford's capture in connection with the burglary at Bob Steele's auction show rooms, brought out that Boughton, Pendell, Bradford and Ronald Gardner, 16 of Spring Street, were reportedly involved in the Manos Market break-in. Lieutenants Lemuel Howard and Francis Fagan of Kingston police and BCI Investigator Frank Stankamp were in charge of the investigation.

Bradford and Gardner were apprehended early Monday morning by state police following a chase through a back road in Lake Katrine. Charged with third degree burglary in connection with the theft of $90 from three cash registers at Bob Steele's show rooms, they were committed to Ulster County Jail pending grand jury action. Arraignment was before Judge Stedje.

Troopers Thomas J. Crowley and Donald Cole on patrol shortly before 3 a. m. said a suspicious looking 1960 high-priced car failed to halt on signal. The troopers chased the car through Lake Katrine back roads and halted the vehicle on Route 9W. Troopers said the two youths entered the rear window of the auction show rooms on Route 9W, Town of Ulster, and rifled three cash registers. They walked across the highway to the Expert Body Repair Shop lot and made their escape in the 1960 sedan in which they were later apprehended. The car belonged to DeWitt Cadillac-Oldsmobile. The car allegedly wrecked by Bradford and Pendell in Ruby last July was also taken from the same lot, troopers reported.

Dredges Up Charges

Stevenson replied that Zorin had merely dredged up a series of "lurid charges, all identical" to those delivered by Cuban delegate Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui and Karel Kurka of Czechoslovakia.

I would ask the committee to note that the charges all refer to events of last April," said Stevenson. "The only new charge that has been advanced is that refugees from Castro's Cuba are being trained at various places in the Western Hemisphere. But for that allegation he (Zorin) has not advanced a shred of evidence."

Chairman Mario Amadeo announced the committee would take a breather today to digest the mass of charges and counter-charges delivered at the opening session and resume its debate Wednesday.

Vast Unilever Companies
Now Listed on Big Board

Q) "Would you please comment on the Unilever companies which have recently been listed on the New York Stock Exchange?"

A) I've received a number of letters on this subject. Shares of the two Unilever firms, Unilever Ltd. (British) and Unilever N. V. (Dutch), have recently been listed on the Big Board in the form of American Depositary Receipts.

The companies are separate entities for legal and tax reasons, but they are actually controlled by the same managing group. Taken together, they make up a huge complex which supplies soaps, detergents, margarine, oils, fats, foods and animal feeds on a world-wide basis.

Europe is the major marketing area, but North and South America and Africa are also important. In the U. S., Unilever subsidiaries are Lever Brothers and Thomas Lipton, which turn out a wide range of popular household items. Over-all sales and earnings have made good gains over the past decade; and, although occasional dips may occur, I look for the basic uptrend to continue. On the face of it, the dividend on the British shares is better, but you will find that the British lowers the yield substantially.

Because of their wide scope of operations, both Unilever Ltd. and Unilever N. V. are somewhat vulnerable to world tensions. Nevertheless, I think that their shares are reasonably priced when compared with similar American firms.

In my opinion, either of the Unilevers is a sound holding for portfolios.

Q) "What is treasury stock?"

A) Treasury stock is a firm's own stock which has been acquired by the company, usually by purchase or gift. Such shares are held in separate accounts, often with a particular purpose in mind—such as to pay for coming acquisitions. Treasury stock doesn't receive dividends, nor does it have any voting power. ## SEC Probes Stock be the prelude to a more intensive study of lenders who are exempt from the stock market credit restrictions imposed by the Federal Reserve Board.

Focus on PR Firms

The manipulation through publicity phase of the inquiry is focusing on the activities of a small group of financial public relations firms, most of them located in New York.

The SEC wants to find out whether any of these firms, in their effort to promote the corporations that hire them, have circulated press releases aimed at affecting stock prices. From what is known of the investigation, it seems apparent that the SEC is checking newspaper usage of certain releases and subsequent changes in stock prices.

Area of Special Concern

An area of special concern is the possibility that publicity campaigns have helped generate public enthusiasm for certain recent "hot issues"—new stock issues which have shown sharp price advances immediately or soon after reaching the market.

The SEC never has tried to use its anti-fraud powers against public relations organizations. However officials said the powers could be used if a firm conspired to juggle market prices by distributing inaccurate or misleading press releases.

Scout Troop 10 Renews Charter, Has Eagle Award

Boy Scout Troop 10, sponsored by Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, Town of Ulster, held its annual charter presentation recently commemorating the 11th anniversary of the unit at the firehouse, and featuring the recognition of a new Eagle Scout.

Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Bruce Southard led the gathering in the pledge to the flag. This was followed by a patrol flag ceremony highlighting the scout oath and law.

Presents Charter

Neighborhood Commissioner Thomas Orr presented the charter to Institutional Representative Edward Muller and registration cards to troop officials.

He also presented the 100 percent Boys Life banner achieved by the unit, to Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Dean Short.

Registration cards were presented to each scout. The boys who have been with the troop one year or longer received service pins. Scoutmaster Carlton L. Deyo served as master of ceremonies and invested Edward Felipe to the rank of tenderfoot at an impressive candlelight service.

Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Ryan presided over the court that elevated Keith Knapp and Philip Ryan to second class scouts. He also bestowed the rank of first class upon Ronald Fischang and Jacob Mesick.

For each rank passed, the advancing scout presented his mother with a pin.

Throughout the evening the group was led in several scout cheers and songs.

Demonstrates Firemaking

Scout David Simpson explained and demonstrated the art of firemaking by using flint and steel.

Scoutmaster Deyo then awarded merit badges consisting of the following:

Scholarship to Michael O'Brien; home repairs to Howard Hotelling, Thomas Davis and David Every; fishing to Scott Miller and David Palmer; art to Bruce Southard; canoeing to Donald Reed; mechanical drawing to James Petersen and safety to Bruce Southard.

The following newly appointed troop officers were installed: Dean Short and Thomas Wadnola to junior assistant scoutmasters; Roger Ohlson to senior patrol leader, and Bruce Southard to assistant senior patrol leader.

Announce Winner

Troop Scribe Victor de Ily gave a brief report on the rules and results of an inter-patrol contest the troop completed. He announced that the Thunderbird patrol achieved first place. The Beaver patrol received a first aid kit from Roger Ohlson for their winning top honor in a previous contest.

A review of the scout religious awards during the past year was conducted.

A scout must have reached the rank of first class, and worked with his spiritual leader for one year on religious matters in order to qualify.

The following youths were recognized: Donald Reed, God and Country, Protestant faith award; Michael O'Brien, Ad Altare Dei Cross of the Roman Catholic faith; David Rose, Louis Propp and Jay Colon, who received the Aleph certificate which is the first part of Ner Tamid award of the Jewish faith.

JOINS EAGLE SCOUT RANK—A member of Boy Scout Troop 10, sponsored by Ulster Hose Company No. 5, was advanced to the rank of Eagle Scout at a special ceremony held recently at a meeting in which the annual charter was presented. This was the 11th anniversary of the unit. Thomas Wadnola (second from left) was presented with his Eagle Badge by Neighborhood Commissioner Thomas Orr (left). Witnessing the ceremony were, in the usual order, his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wadnola, Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Ryan and Scoutmaster Carlton L. Deyo. McCumber and Thomas Davis who will receive the Ad Altare Dei Cross, Roman Catholic award on Boy Scout Sunday, Feb. 11, at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City.

A special ceremony was conducted for Thomas Wadnola who advanced to Eagle, highest rank in scouting.

Scout Wadnola was escorted to the chair of honor by the troop's newest tenderfoot, Edward Felipe, as his first good deed, as a scout.

This was followed by an Indian Dance led by Kenneth Knapp, which embodied the life cycle of the great American bird the eagle.

Five skits were enacted by three scouts Gregory de Ily, Gerald Rose, and Arthur Andersen.

Demonstrate Highlights

This was demonstrated on a "this is your life as a scout theme," and consisted of highlights from April 1957, when Thomas became a tenderfoot until the present.

As a guest of the troop, Ralph Shapiro, scoutmaster of Troop 12, spoke briefly concerning his association with Scout Wadnola while attending the 5th National Jamboree at Colorado in 1960. He also praised the youth for his outstanding leadership in the Order of the Arrow, honorary camping society of the Boy Scouts of America.

A letter of congratulations from Dr. Clement Angstrom, former scoutmaster of Troop 3, where Thomas started scouting, was read by Scoutmaster Deyo. He also presented the advancing scout with a cloth badge, eagle square knot, and advancement card.

Assistant Scoutmaster Ryan conveyed a formal letter of congratulations from chief scout executive Joseph A. Brunton Jr. and awarded the scout with an eagle wall chart.

Receives Mothers Award

Scout Wadnola presented his mother with a necklace and mothers pin.

The final tribute was made by Neighborhood Commissioner Thomas Orr, who placed the sterling silver eagle badge on the scout's left pocket, and proclaimed him and Eagle.

Included among the guests was Neighborhood Commissioner Louis Gerbon.

Sound movies of the 5th National Jamboree at Colorado were shown.

Kitchen facilities for refreshments were arranged by Commitment Francis Short, Paul Bielinski, Thomas Brinello, and Parrran Gates.

Participating scouts not previously mentioned are: Charles Bielinski, Daniel Corrigan, Vincent Stoll, Terry Wilber, David Quick, Hoyt Adickes, Anthony Antenucci, Russell Wilber, David Petersen, Gary Van Etten, Steven Hotelling, and Norman Plummer.

The canoe trips will be of a two-week duration. The first, July 1 thru July 13 will start at Blue Mountain Lake and end at Saranac Village. The second trip, July 15 thru July 27 will start at Saranac Village and proceed to Blue Mountain Lake. There is a limit of only sixteen scouts per expedition.

Plan Trail Trips

The Appalachian Trail trips will start just north of Mt. Grey-

Reservations for all sections of camp are now being accepted at Dutchess County Council office, 2 Clinton Square, Poughkeepsie. Scouts are encouraged to register early to be assured a place at camp. It is anticipated that this coming summer season at Camp Nootecoming will set an all-time high in camper attendance.

Kingston Group Slates Retreat Dates, May 18-21

Harold W. O'Connor, local promoter for the Kingston Area Retreat Group, announced today that retreat dates for 1962 have been set for the weekend of May 18 through 21.

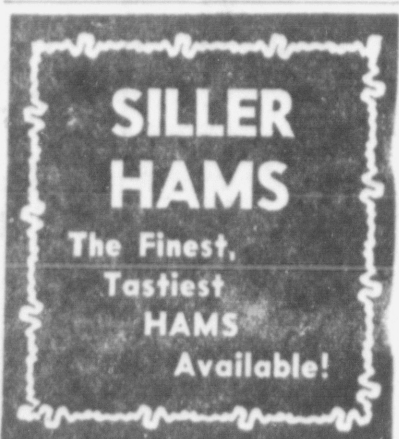

This will be the 12th annual event for the local group and reservations already received indicate that the attendance this year will top that of previous years.

The reasons for a retreat, as pointed out by O'Connor, are as follows:

Rest, relaxation and release from tension; peace, recollection and quiet thought; answers to pressing problems; new understanding of the truths of religion; release from apprehension, doubts and fears; divine guidance in important decisions; new appreciation of God's personal interest in you and your family; a preview of "your final exam;" rich blessings for you and your family, and new confidence, a proven plan for your future.

There is something peaceful about a retreat house that you will find most welcome at the Jesuit Retreat House in Albany, O'Connor said. "Gone is the clash of interests and conflicts of wills that mark the world we live in. Peace of mind, like a gentle dew, descends upon you. You enjoy every minute, he said.

Stratton Backing One Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton is supporting a Rockefeller, but not the one he hopes to oppose in New York State's gubernatorial election in November.

Stratton, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, announced Monday he had appointed Gary R. Rockefeller of Johnstown, N.Y., as principal alternate for a vacancy at the U.S. Air Force Academy. Rockefeller, son of Mrs. Charles E. Baker of Johnstown, is not related to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Stratton's office said. Stratton nominated John E. Bauer of Schenectady, N.Y., for the vacancy, in the class beginning this summer. Gov. Rockefeller is seeking re-election.

American Student Orchestra Scores Triumph In Moscow; Play Encores for 40 Minutes

First Russian reports on the month-long Soviet concert tour of the University of Rochester's Eastman Philharmonia indicate that the American student orchestra scored an impressive triumph in its initial concerts in Moscow the week of January 29.

The University of Rochester orchestra, conducted by Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the University's Eastman School of Music, is making a three-month concert tour of Europe, the Middle East, and Russia under State Department auspices.

In their Moscow debut the 87-student group was forced by an enthusiastic audience of 2,000 persons to play encores for more than 40 minutes, according to overseas press reports. A second Moscow concert, which was televised over the Soviet network, brought requests for six encores—including two repeats of the Sousa march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever." At the third concert, the orchestra again had to repeat its rousing Sousa encore.

Conductor Howard Hanson's own composition, the Symphony No. 2 ("Romantic"), was the most warmly applauded selection on the formal part of the opening Moscow program. The Tass News Agency said that Hanson's symphony, performed in Russia for the first time, "is regarded by Moscow music critics as one of the most striking manifestations of American romanticism of the 20th century."

United States Ambassador to Russia, Llewellyn Thompson, and Mrs. Thompson were present at the Philharmonia's initial Moscow performance and also gave a reception for the ensemble.

Tass reported that the orchestra has "made an impression of very great musical culture."

The University of Rochester troupe's Moscow successes followed enthusiastic receptions earlier this month in Poland and West Berlin. Acclaimed in every country where it has performed so far, the orchestra is scheduled to give a total of 50 concerts in 17 countries during the three-month tour.

Play About Racial Integration Wins Applause in N. Y.

By WILLIAM GLOVER

Associated Press Drama Critic NEW YORK (AP)—A pair of rookie authors handle a touchy theme with highly entertaining results in "Fly Blackbird."

The musical, which arrived Monday night at the tiny Mayfair Theater in a Broadway basement, concerns racial integration. It rollicks with good nature, rocks with melodic ingenuity and rarely sermonizes.

Score, lyrics and book are the joint creation of Clarence Jackson and James Hatch, whom the program merely identified as "on the staff" of the University of California at Los Angeles. Jackson is a Negro.

The show, their first professional stage venture, was inspired by a speech delivered by the Rev. Martin Luther King, integration leader. A one-act version was presented on the West Coast last year.

The slender story concerns a group of New York college students who get locked up after an exuberant—and tuneless—anti-segregation session in a park. The yarn is merely a device for some fairly fanciful side excursions into such matters as mixed blood, Uncle Tomism and crusade methods.

Like Ossie Davis, author of the current comedy "Purlie Victorious," Jackson and Hatch are tackling their subject with laughter. The team also manages to strike a balance of candor and to remind that "every problem has two points of view."

The music is hauntingly fresh and distinctive providing both the dancers and vocalists with exciting challenge. The company includes Avon Long (of "Porgy and Bess" fame), Robert Quillman, Mary Louise, Thelma Oliver, Gloria Van Scott, Helen Blount and Michael Kermoyan. All are rousing under the Jerome Eskow direction.

Robert Soule's sets and costumes are imaginatively adapted to the Mayfair's congested facilities. An engaging and clever show, all around.

Kingston Library Sets Circulation Record in January

A record number of books borrowed that tops all January records for the past 19 years was reported by Kingston City Library in a survey of book circulation totals for last month.

The number reported, a total of 6,323 books borrowed from the adult and children's sections, is the greatest number of books borrowed during January since that same month in 1943. The figure for January 1943 was 6,763 books.

Of the total for last month, 2,071 books were borrowed from the children's room. This total is more than double the total for January, 1943, which was 925 books.

Along with the books, a total of 169 magazines and 130 phonograph records were borrowed from the public library.

The complete circulation total of 6,822 also includes 385 young adult books which were loaned to junior high and high school students. This young adult total is an increase of 400 per cent since the special collection of books of interest to teenagers was begun in 1957.

"The number of new adult registrations, including people who are returning to the library for their recreational and informational reading is still increasing," said Arnold P. Sable, library director.

"People are often surprised at the variety of books and services which the library offers," he said.

The library is open daily from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m., and on Saturday from 1 to 5 p. m. The children's room is open from 1 to 5 p. m. Monday through Saturday.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc. GUESTS WHO SMOKE your bouquet before throwing it. AT THE TABLE

Q: How can one tactfully curb dinner table smoking? I am getting tired of having the time and effort that goes into cooking a party dinner spoiled because of the rudeness of some of our guests. Neither my husband nor I smoke but do not object to smoking, except at the dinner table. If I purposely leave ash trays off the table, these friends go and get them without even asking if smoking is permitted. I have no objection to cigarettes at the end of the meal but these people, whose bad manners permit them to throw a smoke screen around other guests while food is being served, are intolerable. Have we as host and hostess no jurisdiction over our dining table other than removing certain friends' names from our guest list?

A: When cigarettes, ash trays and lighters are not included in the table setting, guests should not smoke at table and, until a few years ago, no lady or gentleman would have even thought of doing so. But today so many do smoke at table that there is really nothing a hostess can do about it.

Q: In writing out a check to a medical doctor or dentist for professional services, how should his name be written on the check? Do you make it out to Plain John Jones, Dr. John Jones or John Jones, M.D., (or D.D.S. as the case may be)?

A: Correctly, you should draw the check to John Jones but Dr. John Jones or John Jones, M.D., is written so often, it is acceptable.

Q: Is it necessary for the bride to throw her bouquet to her attendants before leaving the wedding reception? I would like to keep mine for sentimental reasons if it would be proper.

A: It would be unusual not to throw your bouquet and even thought selfish by many. If you would like a keepsake, you could remove a flower or two from

Johnson Named To Police Dept. By Village Board

Announcement was made at Monday night's meeting of the Saugerties Village Board that the immediate need for the addition of a patrolman to the police force, Johnson be approved for a probationary period of six months as Robbins was in Florida with no knowledge of when he intends to return. The recommendation was accepted.

It was recommended by Police Commissioner George Terpening Jr., that, due to the immediate need for the addition of a patrolman to the police force, Johnson be approved for a probationary period of six months as Robbins was in Florida with no knowledge of when he intends to return. The recommendation was accepted.

Anthony Vicevich, a member of the Saugerties Planning Board, appeared before the board to invite trustees to attend Thursday night's meeting at the Saugerties High School to hear a discussion on Urban Renewal by Richard May of Raymond May Associates.

Village Clerk, Ernest P. Ackert read a list of 11 parcels of land totaling $1,441.90 that he will advertise for sale for unpaid taxes and scheduled the sale for Feb. 23, 10 a. m. at his office in the Municipal Building. It was approved by Acting Mayor Frank Short and the trustees.

The board also received an invitation to attend the annual dinner of the R. A. Snyder Fire Company which will be held tonight.

A request from the Saugerties Chapter of the DAR for the mayor to proclaim February as American History Month was approved and duly signed as a proclamation by Short, in the absence of Mayor George P. Holmes. The local chapter has sponsored the event since 1955.

The subject of street lights in the Knolls development off Lighthouse Drive was discussed but set aside for further investigation when it was learned the streets had never been accepted by the village from the original developer. Residents in that area will be advised that steps must first be made by the Newburgh Savings Bank, owners of the property at the present time, to offer the streets to the village for acceptance before any improvements may be made.

Urban Renewal Meeting Slated Thursday Night

Final plans for the meeting on urban renewal have been formulated. The Saugerties Planning Board committee consisting of Nathan Aaron and Dr. R. J. Messina has arranged for Richard May Jr. of Raymond and May Associates to address all interested residents of Saugerties and to answer any questions on urban renewal.

Mr. May has been active in the preliminary survey and the comprehensive development plan for Kingston. Its urban renewal undertaking is presently in progress. The meeting will be held Thursday, at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria of the new junior-senior High School, Washington Avenue.

Congregational Church Adopts $4,900 Budget

Mrs. Arlene Roser was elected Sunday school superintendent; Mrs. Edna Hrdlicka, church clerk; Mildred Johnson, financial secretary and Ella Roosa, treasurer.

Kingston Legion Plans Campaign For New Members

Plans for expanding the membership of Kingston Post 150, American Legion have been announced by George C. Heppner, post commander.

"The post has been stepping up its community service and youth programs this year and decided that the time has come to increase its membership too," Heppner said.

Membership in the post for 1961 was 611, and 560 have already paid their dues for 1962. With further renewals and new members, Commander Heppner stated that an enrollment of 675 is expected by the close of 1962.

A committee headed by William F. Hanley has been receiving from present members names of veterans who are being recommended for Legion membership. During the period Feb. 15 to June 15, the committee will personally contact those recommended for Legion membership.

Commander Heppner said that anyone in Kingston interested in knowing more about the American Legion was welcome to contact Chairman Hanley at 165 Wrentham Street.

Among activities planned by the local American Legion Post for 1962 are: Sponsoring another American Legion baseball team for boys, ages 15-18 years; sponsoring another Babe Ruth team for the younger boys.

Selecting and sponsoring a high school boy to be a representative to Boys State at Colgate University.

Planning for and participating in the Memorial Day observances.

Commander Heppner said that the plan for a stepped-up local activities and enrollment ties in with a national program announced by National Legion Commander Charles L. Bacon of Kansas City, Mo. National Commander Bacon has asked all American Legion posts to consider plans for expansion as a means of strengthening American communities. Although the number eligible for American Legion membership is declining the veterans' organization began the New Year with more dues paid in advance than at any time in the last five years.

POLLY'S QUIZ

Pattern Again Invades Home Lends Interest to Interiors

For 1962, the home furnishings taste-setters are forecasting the use of more pattern everywhere: on walls, floors, ceilings and upholstered pieces.

Trend watchers and followers who have been dwelling in plain and pristine interiors may welcome this renewed interest in pattern. A word of caution seems necessary however, as the combination of several varying designs in one room is a tricky matter. Leave that for the experienced professional decorator.

The average home decorator who likes pattern and gobs of it might well select a matching fabric and wallpaper and use lots of both for a well coordinated, cozy room. But beware of patterned wallpaper plus a figured rug or chintz slip covers and a patterned carpet. The use of pattern is definitely a trend but one to follow with discretion.

Dear Polly: I am in the dark with my living room. The room is so dark I can't imagine what color to use on walls and chairs. I have steam heat and radiators come to the windows. Should I have short drapes? Rug is old and varicolored. Sofa is beige. I like Early American. "In the Dark"

Dear "In the Dark": Clear yellow walls should bring you from the dark into a world of brilliant sunshine. Paint woodwork and radiators to match the walls. Still-length draw curtains the same color will further the illusion of floods of sunshine and will not appear conspicuously short. Pep up that beige sofa with a slip cover made of an eagle-patterned print in blue, golden yellow and a bit of dull red. Two blue chairs and a dull

Quiet Day for Queen

LONDON (AP) — The second decade of the new Elizabethan era began today with artillery and flag salutes to Queen Elizabeth II and loasis in the pubs to a long and happy reign for the 35-year-old monarch.

Elizabeth was expected to spend the 10th anniversary of her becoming queen quietly with her family. It was a day of leave-taking for the monarch and her husband, Prince Philip, who leaves by plane tonight for a two-month tour of Latin America.

Reis Is Elected By Central Men, To Hold Banquet

The annual meeting of the Central Businessmen's Association was held Monday at the Casablanca Restaurant. Approximately 25 members of the association were in attendance.

A nominating committee proposed Frank Reis Jr. for president, Edwin M. Ford as vice president, John Van Tassel for secretary, and William Grunewald for treasurer. Herbert C. Myers, David Fletcher, and Thomas Reynolds were nominated as directors for a three year term. All were unanimously elected.

The newly-elected president appointed a banquet committee to arrange for the annual spring banquet. As usual, a speaker of prominence will bring a message of interest to local businessmen. He also appointed a publicity committee and announced that the names of a committee to work closely with the city administration and the Planning Board on urban renewal and city development will be shortly announced.

Reis gave a short resume of activities of the association for the year 1961, indicating that the group had been active in several areas of benefit to central Broadway merchants and shoppers.

The petition further states that Hurley Lions Club would be willing to have its committee meet with representatives of the Public Works Department to further discuss the matter.

Prince Recovering

TOKYO (AP) — The imperial household announced today that Crown Prince Akihito is recovering satisfactorily from the cold that forced curtailment of his foreign tour and that his temperature has dropped to normal.

The prince became ill in Bali where he and Crown Princess Michiko were on the final leg of an Indonesian visit. The royal couple cancelled a visit to the Philippines.

It Just Happened PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John Worthington, 91, and his wife, Louise, 87, celebrate their 67th wedding anniversary today. Worthington observed: "We've got a good life. I don't have any secrets for our happy marriage. It just happened."

Dear Polly: We have just moved into a newly decorated older home. Walls in the front room are pink with white ceiling. Rug is sage green and a chair is cherry wood. Adjoining playroom is white on the lower half with aqua on top. Floors are neutral tile. We need drapes for the front room window and my living room set needs slip covers. Playroom also needs drapes and a davenport slip cover. I thought of a Colonial pattern on beige. Would something else give more zest?—T.M.

Dear T.M.: Your "front" room must be small as there is only one window so you might do well to match curtains to the wall colors. Slip covers could be a gay floral chintz with wine, pink and white flowers and green leaves on a white or pale green ground. Forget that beige stuff for the playroom. Be different and have fabric roller shades made of striped cotton in aqua, brown, gold and even a bit of pink as a carry-over from the living room. Use white cafe curtains on the lower half of each window. Slip cover the sofa in the same striped fabric as the shades.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post cards individually. But she will comment in her column on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

Ask Colonial-type Architecture on Rt. 209 at Hurley

A petition asking for the use of colonial-type architecture to preserve and maintain the atmosphere of the historic Village of Hurley in the construction of the new Route 209 through that village, was forwarded this week to Governor Nelson Rockefeller and J. Burch McMorran, superintendent of the State Public Works Department.

The petition drafted by Hurley Lions Club and signed by Vernon Goethius, president, pointed out the colonial charm and graciousness of the village and its historical heritage, and the club's interest in maintaining that atmosphere.

The village in 1961 was recognized as a National Historic Site by the Department of Interior.

The petition stated that there are three points of great concern to the community and its organizations. They are: The ultimate appearance or design of the bridge spanning Route 209 near Hurley Reformed Church; the layout and landscaping of the interchanges and replacement of trees, and the appearance of the directional signs which, of necessity, must be installed.

As a suggestion, the petition stated, an acceptable design would be the type of bridges and road markers found on the Taconic and Saw Mill River Parkways in Westchester County.

The petition further states that Hurley Lions Club would be willing to have its committee meet with representatives of the Public Works Department to further discuss the matter.

Christian Science Theme to Be 'Spirit'

The spiritual significance of events in the life of the Apostle Paul will be brought out at Christian Science church services in Woodstock Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Spirit" is the Golden Text from II Corinthians (3): "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

Paul's enlightenment is emphasized in reading from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including this citation (p. 324): "When the truth first appeared to him in Science, Paul was made blind, and his blindness was felt; but spiritual light soon enabled him to follow the example and teachings of Jesus, healing the sick and preaching Christianity throughout Asia Minor, Greece, and even in imperial Rome."

First Public Hearing Slated Feb. 20 on Local Growth Plan

The first public hearing on the Growth Plan for Woodstock will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 20, at a legal hearing pursuant to Section 272A of the Town Law.

The object of this hearing is to give all citizens an opportunity to state their opinions and reasons therefor for the information and guidance of the Planning Board.

The factual material and proposed Growth Plan are the subject of an exhibit of maps, charts, and diagrams which will open at the Woodstock Artists Association Gallery on Saturday afternoon, February 10, and will continue through Saturday, March 3.

The exhibit will be open on week days from 4:30 to 8:30, on Saturday from 3 to 7, and on Sunday from 12 to 4. An attendant will be present to answer questions and a printed guide to the exhibits will be handed free to all visitors.

The chairman of the Planning Board stated today: "This exhibit will give every citizen an opportunity to familiarize himself with the details of our proposed plan prior to the hearing. The ten days after the hearing will allow interested persons to make further study of the plans after hearing testimony on February 20. In this way, written communications can be prepared for the further guidance of the board."

"All of the board members hope that this exhibit and the hearing will be given wide and serious consideration by everyone."

The 29 maps, charts, and diagrams have been prepared by Brown and Anthony at the direction of the Planning Board, under a contract entered into by the Town Board last June after the successful campaign for public subscriptions to make this exhaustive study possible and at no expense to the taxpayers.

H. Schimmerling On Jewish Art

"Thou Shalt Not Make unto Thee Any Graven Image" is said again and again in the Pentateuch and yet the Israelites did not heed this severe injunction of their leader and savior from bondage and captivity.

Though Jews are considered the most rigorous representatives of iconoclasm, recent discoveries have proved that ancient Jews did practice painting and sculpture. The excavations in Doura-Europas, Mesopotamia unearthed an ancient synagogue with frescoes which are believed to be from the third century A.D. These frescoes are illustrations of scenes from the Pentateuch, The Book of Kings, The Prophets and The Book of Esther.

Some authorities believe that early Christian art borrowed the Old Testament scenes from the synagogue; others reject this hypothesis. The theory emphasizing originality of synagogue paintings and its influence upon early Christian religious art, the latter being a derivative of the former, gained ground after the Yugoslavian writer, Svetozar Radicevic had called the world's attention to Paschal Haggadah of Sarajevo. Comparative studies have shown that the illustrations in the latter have much in common with the frescoes of Doura, mentioned above.

Is the Manual The Haggadah, as we know, is a manual for the Jewish domestic ceremony held on the Eve of Passover. The Sarajevo Haggadah is a Spanish manuscript on parchment with beautiful illustrations which "offer a complete picture of the variety of color, confusion, and other astonishing data regarding

BEWARE

Many furniture manufacturers, particularly of nationally known quality lines, furnish the furniture retailer, with a suggested retail price list. The usual procedure at Butler Furniture Company on Route 28A in West Hurley is to show the prospective buyer this retail price list, when available, and after making their selections the customer totals the amount—then a liberal discount is taken off—this discount is large enough to guarantee any purchaser a lower price for the quality, than elsewhere in Ulster County, or their money will be refunded.

This procedure is not the usual policy followed in most furniture stores. The usual practice is to keep the customer completely bewildered—naturally, in such a way that they are unaware of the fact. Then a quotation of list price, or above it is possible, with the possibility of throwing in a free lamp or two, a free inexpensive mattress, or some similar bait to give the buyer the impression they have closed a hard bargain.

Another method commonly used is to have most of the merchandise on the floor displayed without price tags. This enables the salesman, after sizing up the prospective buyer, to work whatever angle he thinks will be needed to close the sale. Several examples commonly used, are as follows: quote a price considerably higher than they expect to get in the expectation the customer believing themselves to be shrewd shoppers, will demand a reduction to close the deal. If the salesman should happen to notice the shopper has been attracted by some small item such as a lamp, or similar oddity as they browsed through, he often quotes a slightly higher price on the larger item and generously throws in the smaller item to close the deal.

There are dozens of similar schemes used to mislead and pressure the prospective buyer in many furniture stores. Any shopper should be very suspicious of any store, of any kind, who does not display on the article the selling price. There is only one reason for not doing so, and that's to mislead the customer.

No matter what reason is given, no matter what so-called bargain price is quoted, no matter what is tossed in to close the deal, if the store is to remain in business, he must make a profit; and if his overhead is higher, if his cost of operation is greater, if he has too many who must make a living from a business that is not large enough to support the drain, then his percentage mark-up must be greater, and you the buyer must pay more to him than you would in a store that is operated more efficiently, with a lower overhead and less drain on the profits.

The common logic above explains, in part, why the Butler Furniture Company on Route 28A in West Hurley have always guaranteed the buyer a better price, in the quality, than elsewhere in the county, or their money back.

The same reasoning explains why the more intelligent resident of the Kingston shopping area will usually buy at Butler's. Because of their intelligence, they are not as easily misled—they know quality and a fair price when they see it—they buy at Butler's.

They will be accompanied by a panel of business leaders of outstanding reputation, all authorities on specific categories of legislation. Much of the time will be devoted to answering questions submitted by those in attendance.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There has been many a TV tale about sweet little old ladies with a penchant for homicide and all of them have seemed to be pale carbon copies of Abby and Martha Brewster, the spinster sisters with the secret, lethal recipe for elderberry wine.

Monday night, courtesy of NBC, Joseph Kesselring's originals were back for 90 minutes. It was a fine, frolicsome TV adaptation of the long-running and classic "Arsenic and Old Lace."

A good time was had by all but the most squeamish. Aunts Abby and Martha sympathetically dispatched their 12th lonely old "friend" and stashed him in the living room window box as the merry tale of murder began. Teddy Brewster (played by Tom Bosley who imitated the first Roosevelt beautifully) raved around tooting a horn, leading a charge up an imaginary San Juan Hill and digging the Panama Canal in the cellar.

Boris Karloff was back in his original stage role of the murdering Brewster brother who, owing to unfortunate plastic surgery, resembled Boris Karloff.

Dorothy Stickney and Mildred Natwick were delightful as the Brewster sister, who would never tell fibs but just couldn't resist helping the old and lonely to their reward. Tony Randall was properly harassed as the unhappy normal Brewster nephew.

It was very funny, quite mad and a real treat.

"About Time," a handsome hour-long special in NBC's science series, undertook to explain time and its measurement Monday night.

Dr. Frank Baxter, aided by motion picture clips, animation and graphs, tried to lead us gently to an understanding of the principles involved.

It was all right when he was showing us the seasons, the swinging pendulum that led to the invention of clocks and the development of the imperfect calendar we all use. But when he got around to Einstein's theory of relativity and how time is slower some places than others, I was thoroughly lost. Too old and stupid, I guess, but probably the youngsters understood it.

The professor's goal is 100 pounds. He's lost 75 since Nov. 1 when he weighed 342½ pounds. "Fat came off in layers when I started," the professor says. "It's like chipping granite block now. But I hope to make it eventually."

NEW PALTZ — According to a study just completed by the Independent Citizens Committee on Education, the financial situation in the New Paltz Central School District compares favorably with that of districts in the surrounding area. This report was based in part on information obtained from other school districts in the Mid-Hudson Valley area.

Walter Dyer headed the financial committee and was assisted by Mrs. Bennett Barndt, Francis Sullivan, Douglas Snow, and Walter Paradies.

The school tax rate in New Paltz School District is $12.95 per hundred dollars of true value. Tax rates in neighboring districts based on true value are: Highland, $16.61; Wallkill, $14.54; Ellenville, $12.60; Marlboro, $14.81; Onteora, $11.41; Rondout Valley, $14.53; Kingston, $12.54; Valley Central (Walden, Maybrook, Montgomery) $17.17; Rhinebeck, $15.42.

Onteora and Ellenville which have somewhat lower rates than New Paltz have within their districts parts of the New York City Water Supply System. Taxes paid by the city on these lands help to hold down the tax rates in these school districts.

Kingston has a large industrial section which performs the same service.

The system of true value generally is the best available way to compare tax rates. However, there is an additional basis of comparison which can be used by the New Paltz School District. School district lines and township lines are not identical.

All properties in the New Paltz Township are appraised by the same assessors. But people in the New Paltz Township who are in the New Paltz School District pay $9.24 per hundred of actual assessed valuation and people who live in the New Paltz Township, but are in the Highland School District pay $11.86 per hundred.

A similar situation occurs in Gardiner Township. People in the Gardiner Township located in the New Paltz School District pay $9.95 per hundred of actual assessed value. People in the Gardiner Township who are located in the Wallkill School District pay $11.19 per hundred.

In terms of present bonded indebtedness, New Paltz compares even more favorably with the six school districts whose total bonded indebtedness are made available to the committee. New Paltz at present has a bonded indebtedness of $863,780. Bonded indebtedness of surrounding communities is: Highland, $1,978,000; Wallkill, $1,505,000; Ellenville, $2,525,000; Marlboro, $1,001,000; Onteora, $3,063,153; Rondout Valley, $3,247,000.

In spite of its favorable financial picture, New Paltz Central School District is not eligible for State aid for building. State aid for building is based on a formula adopted by the State Legislature. It is a fairly complex formula but the only part that determines New Paltz's situation is explained as follows:

The number of students in grades 7-12 is multiplied by $1600. The number of students in grades kindergarten-sixth is multiplied by $1200. If the sum is less than 6 per cent of the total true value of property in the district, no state aid will be given if the sum is greater, the district is eligible for aid.

For New Paltz the formula works as follows: In order for a student to be counted, he must be enrolled either in the Central or the Gardiner School. The State assumes the cost of educating students at the Campus School.

Students (grades 7-12) 465 at $1600 equals $744,000. Students (grades kindergarten-sixth) 459 at $1200 equals $550,800. Total equals $1,294,800. Total valuation equals $31,900,978. 6 per cent of $31,900,978 equals $1,914,059. Therefore, under the present State formula, New Paltz is not eligible for State aid for building.

Ohio State Still Unbeaten After 89-63 Win Over Iowa

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Irrepressible Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked team, conceivably could take its place among collegiate basketball's all-time elite.

The current band of the all-conquering Buckeyes is streaking along in devastating fashion with 17 straight victories. No. 17 came Monday night at home—an impressive 89-63 lacing of Iowa in a Big Ten conference game that gave them undisputed possession of first place in the league.

Just a year ago, Jerry Lucas & Co. were doing the same thing—winning at will. They had put together a tidy string of 32 triumphs in a row, five of them at the end of the 1930 campaign en route to the national championship.

The Bucks captured 27 straight last season and needed only a win over Cincinnati in the NCAA final for a 28-0 undefeated slate and a 33-game skid. The Buckeyes ended Ohio State 70-45 in overtime.

Coach Fred Taylor's lads from Columbus are back in business again, and the way they're going they're going to be mighty hard to stop. The Buckeyes have a 7-0 Big Ten record and have seven more games to play—all league games.

If the Buckeyes sweep their seven remaining games and the four games in the NCAA championships, they'll wind up with a 28-0 mark. Only three other major teams ever have finished a season unbeaten—Kentucky in 1964, San Francisco in 1956 and North Carolina in 1957.

The Buckeyes built a 41-11 bulge over Iowa, led at halftime 32-26 and coasted to victory with 56 per cent. Other leaders included: Dr. and Mrs. John Oliver, Kingston, 50 per cent; and Thomas Brooks, Hyde Park, and Harry Thayer, Kingston, 49 per cent.

A Fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at the Stuyvesant Kingston Hotel.

St. Mary's Cagers Split Pair of Games
St. Mary's of Kingston basketball teams split two games recently at the Astor Home in Rhinebeck. The Tyro III team whipped the home side, 14-8, while the jayvee team was beaten, 39-21.

Lovelette, Hill Lost to Hawks
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Even when they have a day off, the hapless St. Louis Hawks lose.

The five-time champs of the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, now dragging their sneakers in fourth place, have lost hulking Clyde Lovellette for the rest of the season with an injured achilles tendon in his left leg. Rookie back-court man Cleo Hill is out for a week or 10 days after breaking a small bone in his right foot.

Lovellette suffered the injury against Los Angeles Saturday night. Two games were played Monday night and St. Louis' successor as kingpin in the West, the Los Angeles Lakers, and the Hawks' perennial title playoff opponents, the Boston Celtics, fattened their division leads.

The Lakers, with Jerry West treating the old home folks at Morgantown, W.Va., to 46 points, whipped Cincinnati 134-128—opening an 11-game lead over the Royals in the Western Division. The Celtics thumped the Chicago Packers 127-111 in Chicago and moved eight games up on the runner-up team in the East, the Philadelphia Warriors.

Turley Is Sharp In Yank Drills
PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Hard-throwing Bob Turley, who developed bone chips in his elbow during the 1961 baseball campaign, has passed the first test on the road back toward the form that made him a 21-game winner for the New York Yankees.

Turley, 31-year-old right-hander who won 21 in 1958, took his first workout as the advance guard of the worst champions opened their new training camp Monday, pitching for 15 minutes and then reporting optimistically:

"It felt very good. Of course, I am keeping my fingers crossed. I have been throwing for two weeks in the gym and I haven't had any sign of pain. I believe I'm going to be all right. Right now I could pitch a few exhibition innings."

Turley won the Cy Young Award in 1958 when he was 21-7 and won two games in the World Series, including the clincher, as the Yankees beat the Milwaukee Braves.

He was 17-14 over the following two seasons before becoming particularly ineffective for the Yankees last season, appearing in only 15 games (72 innings) for a 3-5 record and a bulging 5.75 earned run average.

Ridan Favored In Hialeah Race
By GENE PLOWDEN
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Handicappers give undefeated Ridan a slight edge over Crimson Satan and Sir Gaylord in Wednesday's $25,000 added Bahamas Stakes at Hialeah Park.

They figure Mrs. Moody Jolley's colt, going for his ninth straight after winning the six-furlong Hibiscus Stakes, at 7 to 5 for the seven-furlong Bahamas, with Bill Hartack to ride.

Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, 2-year-old champion last year, did not run in the Hibiscus and was held at 8 to 5 in Wednesday's feature, with Willie Shoemaker in the saddle.

Shoemaker said he fears Meadow Stable's Sir Gaylord more than he does Ridan. The overnight line has Sir Gaylord at 5 to 2. Ishmael Valenzuela will ride.

It will be the first time these three leading Kentucky Derby candidates have met this winter and the track record of 1:22 may be broken. Ridan ran the Hibiscus in 1:09 1/5, only two-fifths of a second slower than the track record of 1:08 4/5 set four days earlier by Beau Admiral.

Each of the top three will carry 126 pounds. The remainder of the field, carrying less weight, could give them a battle.

J. M. Roebeling's Rainy Lake, winner of four out of five and second to Ridan in the Hibiscus, gets in under 117 with Bob Ussery, the leading Hialeah jockey, to ride.

Mrs. Ethel Haffa's Mighty Fennec, third in the Hibiscus, will have Sam Boulmetis on his back and Avino Gomez will ride F & B Stable's Good Fight.

Two others who may go are A. J. Ostriker's Fliggo Bob and Gustave Ring's Stinson Beach. The Bahamas is the last big test for 3-year-olds before the mile and a furlong Everglades two weeks later, to be followed by the $100,000 Flamingo on March 3.

Lack of Interest In U. S. Athletics Worries White
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Byron R. (Whizzer) White, U.S. deputy attorney general, says America needs more Paul Hornungs and Bob Fergusons and fewer spectators in athletics.

White addressed the 25th annual Maxwell Football Club dinner Monday night honoring Hornung of the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers and Ferguson of Ohio State as the professional and college football players of the year.

"I am and have been a rabid fan," said White. "But I am concerned because athletics are not reaching anywhere near the majority of our young people. We've got to have more participants."

White was a football star, at Colorado.

Sports Talk

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The increasing popularity of bridge in Ulster county led us quite naturally to inquire about players who dominate this form of recreation which has enjoyed phenomenal growth in recent years.

One prominent player, who could rank the experts as well as anyone in the business, begged off.

"Please, no quotes," he pleaded. "I have an idea just what two or three players I would put my money in a showdown game. But don't ask me to either name or rate them in order of skill. That would lead to social ostracism for me."

Obviously, he was exaggerating. To compound his extreme reluctance, he observed: "That would be like trying to judge a beauty contest of 6-year-olds with 500 hostile fathers and mothers looking on."

Our informant said he felt that a good temperament was a prime requisite in a player of championship calibre. Many players with natural ability and sound fundamentals flunk out in temperament, he said. No matter how naturally gifted a person may be, he must have bridge temperament when the pressure is on.

Since our informant appeared reluctant to single out any individuals, we did some research of our own through the medium of the semi-weekly results of the Glenelg Bridge Club. Several names crop up time and again. Obviously these folks are among the best we have in these parts.

Pro In Own Class

Since area bridge includes both amateurs and professionals, it would be uneven to toss all the names into the same hopper.

For instance, I. H. (Laddie) Wheatcroft, George Baron and Charles Rice are in a sense professionals. Ditto for A. (never found out his first name) Crisafulli of Boiceville. All four of these worthy gentlemen teach bridge and obviously cannot be bracketed with the large amateur contingent.

In the husband and wife era, it is doubtful that any tandem can beat Mr. and Mrs. Wheatcroft when the chips are down. For obvious reasons, they seldom play as a team. The Bob Yallums of Kingston and the A. Crisafulli of Boiceville are top rated husband and wife combinations.

A considerable number of bridge fans would tell you that the brother-sister tandem of Dr. Habeeb Maroon and Miss Dorothy Maroon is tops in the area.

In the solo department, several prominent players are on the winning list week after week.

Some time ago, Rice suggested that Robert Suda was probably the No. 1 player in these parts. We also have heard huzzahs for George Baron, the reformed tennis star, and C. Paul Jensen. The latter is a native of Finland and played with the Finnish Olympic bridge team.

A Team of Three

The Woodstock duo of Dr. Paul Perlman and Laszlo Sima do a game of musical bridge chairs with Harry Thayer of Kingston with consistently fine results. Dr. John Roberts is another highly regarded player, as are the husband-wife teams of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks of Hyde Park. Also highly regarded are Dr. and Mrs. John Olivet of Kingston and in the solo department you can't overlook Milton Daskal of Kerhonkson.

It is no simple matter to single out these players and proclaim here are the best without rebuttal from some source. It is safe to say, however, that somewhere in that list of names is the best bridge player in Ulster county at the present time. If some deserving names have been omitted, it was not by intent—just ignorance, you might say.

Another Set of Choices

In another area of sports, Bill Stafford, the Yankee right-hander from nearby Athens, and Mickey Walker, the erstwhile "Toy Bulldog" got off some personal choices in a recent sports dinner at Albany.

Stafford rated Ted Williams the best hitter he ever faced. He said the Yankees operate at only 75 percent efficiency without Mickey Mantle in the lineup. On the Casey Stengel vs. Ralph Houk matter, Stafford said: "We'd rather play under Houk than Stengel. The spirit is higher."

Walker, who once had close ties with Kingston, called Harry Greb the best boxer he ever fought and Jack Dempsey his ring idol.

Trade Away 50 Points

Maurice Hamilton, who holds forth in our uptown branch, relays this one by way of hometown Boston: A sportswriter cornered Red Auerbach, the volatile Celtics coach, asked him what he would do with Walt Chamberlain. Auerbach had three alternatives: (1) play him in a corner; (2) play him in a double pivot with Bill Russell; or (3) trade him for Elgin Baylor.

Ingemar Plans Comeback in 3 Easy Stages

By JOHN FARROW

Associated Press Sports Writer
GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson has a three-part plan for his comeback, providing he beats former British champion Joe Bygraves in their 10-round heavyweight bout here Friday night.

1. Challenge Dick Richardson of Wales for the European title.
2. Fight Sonny Liston in an outdoor bout there.
3. Take another crack at the world title.

"I'm still young," Ingo, 29, said today, "and I've got another five years of boxing in me. I think I am still good enough to win back the world title if I get a chance."

The former champ, who hasn't fought since he lost by a knockout to heavyweight king Floyd Patterson in Miami last March, has seemed serious about training for the Bygraves fight.

"I went on a diet," Ingo said. "Previously, I used to eat anything and everything at anytime. Now I don't and I feel fitter and harder." He said he weighs 198 lbs. and is encouraged by Johansson's condition and attitude.

"If he beats Bygraves," Ahlquist said, "then he will have one other fight, probably next month, before challenging Richardson for the European title. I plan to match Johansson and Richardson in an open air fight at Goteborg Stadium in May."

Kelley Resigns As Colgate Coach

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Alva Kelley, who led Colgate University last year to its first winning football season in five years, resigned today after three years in the job.

Kelley, 43, gave up the head coach position to take a job as an industrial engineer with a Buffalo firm, David, Fetch Inc., Colgate President Everett Case said.

The retirement is effective when a successor is appointed. No coaches have been mentioned for the position, however, a school spokesman said.

Kelley compiled a record of 9 victories and 18 losses. Last season, the Red Raiders' record was 5-4, including a loss to Syracuse in the last meeting of the two traditional Upstate rivals.

Kelley, in a statement, said "teaching young men the important values to be found in competitive athletics has been my life's work for nearly 20 years. I have enjoyed many rewarding associations and experiences. However, the time has come when I must make practical use of my engineering education."

Kelley, an honor graduate of Cornell University's School of Engineering, was an end on Carl Snavely's unbeaten 1939 Cornell football team.

Kelley played end for three years at Cornell, then went into coaching.

He came to Colgate in 1959 after nine years as head coach at Brown. At the Ivy League school, Kelley compiled 31 victories, 39 defeats and two ties.

He succeeded Fred Rice at Colgate. Rice resigned after two dismal seasons.

World Hockey Schedule Goes On as Planned

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—World ice hockey officials said today the final, official schedule of events for the world tournament in Colorado will be released by the first of next week.

"The tournament will go as scheduled," said Robert Lebel of Montreal, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, and Thayer Tutt of Colorado Springs, chairman of the organizing committee.

Others conferring here are Walter Brown, vice president of the North American Council, and Tom Lockhart, president of the American Hockey Assn.

Lebel said he would like the East German team to compete, "but if they can't, we will go along with the tournament as planned."

The tournament is set for Colorado Springs and Denver March 7-18.

The East German team has been denied a travel permit from the Allied Travel Agency in West Berlin.

Lebel said he anticipated little change in schedule and not too much opposition from Iron Curtain countries.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The sight of Natalie Wood doing a strip tease is akin to seeing Helen Hayes perform the Twist.

The view is fascinating, but you're not so sure she should be doing what she's doing.

That was my reaction to watching Miss Wood prepare for her role as America's most famous striptease, Gypsy Rose Lee. The young actress is playing the title role in "Gypsy."

Now that I have stated my reservations, I can report that Miss Wood does a good job, as always. Though she is perhaps the screen's most effective symbol of purity since Lillian Gish, she does a mean strip.

She was rehearsing the "Let Me Entertain You" number, a time-spanning montage which shows her developing from a shy, hesitant peeler to the strutting, insinuating Gypsy, confident of each and every movement.

I should add that at no time did she wear anything less than a skin-tight black leotard.

"In the picture I'll end up in a bikini-like outfit," she explained. Hollywood's censors are not yet ready to permit nudity.

Matter of fact, the censors have not seen fit to recognize the navel. How will Natalie solve that problem?

"A diamond, I presume," she said.

Nor are bumps and grinds permitted on the screen, but that doesn't inhibit her. "From all I can gather, Gypsy Rose Lee didn't do the bump-and-grind kind of strip," said the actress. "Hers was more a tongue-in-cheek kind of a routine."

Saugerties Constables To Probe Dog Shooting

Town of Saugerties special police are investigating the death by gunshot of a four-year-old mixed breed hound and coon dog Sunday on the Van Vlieden Road near Blue Mountain.

Special Police Officer Charles P. Riley said the dog owned by Victor Oakley of Blue Mountain was shot in the head with a 12-gauge shotgun. The empty shell was found a short distance from the dog's body. Witnesses told Officer Riley that the hunter who reportedly shot the dog drove away in a car with a New Jersey license plate.

Alternate Plans Due

HARRISBURG (AP)—The legislature may present Gov. Lawrence with alternate plans for giving the state's public schools more money.

Both plans were incorporated in the budget by the House Monday. If the House gives them final approval and the Senate concurs, then both plans will be placed on the governor's desk, leaving him with the decision. He could accept one or both plans or reject them altogether.

The school proposals, along with the other legislation making up the governor's $1 billion general fund budget for 1962-63, tentatively was scheduled for a final vote later today.

Three Teenagers In Sunday Crash Still in Hospital

Three of four Saugerties area teenagers, injured early Sunday morning when their car turned over several times after leaving the Mt. Marion Road, are still in Benedictine Hospital today. One youth was discharged Monday.

George Toppie, 17 of Quarryville, who troopers said suffered lacerations of the head, was discharged from the hospital on Monday.

Still in fair condition at the hospital are Bruce Mondy, 17 of Shultis Corners, injured right leg, and Michael Kolbe, 17 of Palenville, minor contusions and abrasions.

L. Stamp, 18 of Route 1, Saugerties, operator of the vehicle was described as "guarded." Troopers said he suffered lacerations of the head and possible fractured ribs.

Troopers Thomas J. Crowley and Kenneth Kreminick said the Stamp vehicle, a 1955 hardtop convertible, was proceeding north on Old Kings Highway about a half mile south of Saugerties when he failed to negotiate a curve, lost control on an icy patch, continued on for about 200 feet across a field and turned over several times before coming to a halt. The injured were taken to the hospital in H. & S. Ambulance. Saugerties. This mishap occurred at 12:05 a. m.

Short Spring

Mercury Dips

57 Degrees

At Massena

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A 57-degree drop in temperature at Massena signaled the end today of New York State's brief taste of spring. Sub-zero readings were expected to be common tonight.

The Weather Bureau predicted that snow flurries and scattered squalls would continue Wednesday and temperatures would rise generally only to the teens or low 20s.

Today's overnight lows were mostly above zero but nearly all below freezing. Massena's 5 compared with a high of 32 Monday.

Other overnight lows: Watertown 2; Olean 4; Plattsburgh 5; Buffalo 8; Binghamton and Rochester 9; Utica and Oneonta 11; Syracuse 12; Albany 17; Glens Falls 18; Poughkeepsie and Newburgh 23; Westhampton Beach 31.

Asks Rocky Action

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A Democratic leader demands that Gov. Rockefeller "say now whether he intends to deliver... on his promise" to have a ban against milk-dating in New York City repealed.

Assembly Minority Leader Anthony J. Travia also demanded that Rockefeller "put up or shut up on his charges immediately."

Rockefeller had told newsmen that he thought some milk in New York City had been injected with vinegar to turn it sour.

Milk dating has become a political issue in the city, which is controlled by Democrats. The Republican-controlled Legislature last year eliminated a city requirement that milk containers carry the date of pasteurization.

Rockefeller this year has asked the lawmakers to reinstate the rule.

A Little Travel Music, Please

Family Touch Evident For Foreign Dealings

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was picked up

what President Eisenhower started — the informal, personal, and even family touch in foreign affairs — and added some touches of his own.

His most glittering addition has been the decision to let his wife, Jacqueline Kennedy, make a goodwill trip to India and Pakistan next month.

Even Nik in Act

Even Premier Khrushchev seems taken by the idea of making use of somebody besides ambassadors in foreign dealings.

He sent his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, over here last November to interview Kennedy. Last week Adzhubei came back for a three-hour luncheon at the White House.

President Truman, except at the beginning of his presidency, stayed pretty much to home, as did most of his predecessors except for the trips of Presidents Roosevelt and Wilson as a result of war.

Eisenhower in his first year traveled to Canada, Mexico and Bermuda on official business.

Kennedy traveled more in his first 12 months: to Canada, Bermuda, England, France, Austria (to see Khrushchev), Colombia, and Venezuela.

Eisenhower did much more traveling later in his presidency. Kennedy is a cinch to do more too.

Ike Called on Milton

In his first year Eisenhower used his family in foreign affairs, sending his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, to Latin America on a fact-finding mission.

Also in 1953 he sent Vice President Richard M. Nixon on a goodwill visit to Asia.

Kennedy in his first year sent Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on a goodwill journey to Asia. Now the president's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, is making a 26-day goodwill trip through Asia and Europe.

This month the President's youngest brother, Edward M. Kennedy, is to go to Poland. But this has been described as a private trip with no arrangements for meeting the Communist leaders there.

Earlier last year the President sent both brothers, Edward and Robert, to Africa on separate missions. His brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, visited South America in behalf of the Peace Corps heads.

JFK Has Ready List

Sisters Jean Smith and Eunice Shriver took a vacation behind the Iron Curtain but managed to have tea with the wife of Yugoslavia's President Tito.

The Kennedy family is a big one and before the President's term is up the various members of it ought to cover a lot of international real estate.

Compared with today's jet-traveling world leaders, Stalin was a stay-at-home except for his wartime conferences with Roosevelt. It was the extroverted Khrushchev who put the personal touch by personal visit into Soviet foreign affairs.

Maybe he got the traveling idea from Eisenhower. Perhaps he thought of it himself. But he became quite a traveler, although he didn't start moving around until 1955. Then he made up for lost time.

Press Aides in Too

Kennedy and Khrushchev have used their press relations men to work out some pretty important arrangements.

Last June 24 Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, appeared on a TV debate in New York with Adzhubei and Mikhail Kharlamov, press officer of the Soviet Foreign Ministry, discussing the role of the press.

All three then came to Washington and for a couple of days talked about ways to improve communications between the United States and Russia.

Out of this discussion, which was right after Khrushchev had given interviews to three American newsmen in Russia, came the idea for Adzhubei's interview with Kennedy in November, the text of which was printed in Russia.

Hand-Picked Job

All this, of course, had Khrushchev's approval. There can hardly be any doubt he picked his son-in-law, who is also a member of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee, to do the interviewing.

Last week, while Adzhubei was here to lunch with Kennedy, it was announced that Salinger had been invited to visit Russia later this year. He'll go, with Kennedy's full approval.

Quebec Doctor, Wife Held for Bogus Bills

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A Canadian physician and his wife faced federal charges today after police reported finding $4,500 in counterfeit Canadian bills in their automobile.

The secret service identified the couple as Dr. Raymond McClure, 28, of St. Hughes, Bagot City, Quebec, and his wife, Francoise, a 20-year-old French Canadian.

The pair had already passed counterfeit Canadian bills in other parts of Upstate New York and had been under surveillance, agents said.

Police here said they walked into a bowling alley lounge Monday, ordered drinks, and paid for them with a phony $20 Canadian bill. They were halted a short distance away after the owner called police.

Assassination

Try on Nikita

Not So: Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Foreign Office press spokesman today branded as a "provocative rumor without any foundation at all," a story current in Moscow that an attempt had been made to assassinate Premier Khrushchev.

"It is an invention and completely false," the spokesman added.

The rumors had been investigated by correspondents and diplomats for several days. No one could find any substance to them.

The first report was that Khrushchev had been shot in the lung during a public meeting in Minsk, in White Russia, in mid-January. But on Jan. 26, some days after the rumored attack, Khrushchev spent three hours with a Burmese trade and diplomatic delegation in Kiev, in the Ukraine.

One of the Burmese said the premier was clearly in good health and good spirits.

On Jan. 30 Mrs. Khrushchev told guests at a meeting commemorating the birthday of Franklin D. Roosevelt that her husband was in Gagra, in the Caucasus.

A rumor then sprang up over the weekend that he had been stabbed Saturday in Gagra.

The foreign office said this morning this was false.

The spokesman declined to say where Khrushchev is now. Diplomats expressed belief that he is in Gagra, working on the agricultural report he will give to the Communist party central committee meeting in Moscow March 5.

Union Executive

Sees Pay Raise

As Vote Gimmick

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's proposal to give state employees a 5 per cent pay raise three months before the November election was "politically gimmicked" to win the employees' vote for him, a union executive board contends.

Rockefeller is a candidate for re-election.

The board, from Council 50, State, County and Municipal Employees Union, met with the Republican governor Monday to discuss higher salaries for the state's
